Fire Hits Storage Room At Westfall School Friday

SMOKEY — A Williamsport volunteer fireman, Joe Wright, is pictured hosing down a pile of wrestling mats

Fire struck a furnace-storage room on the extreme west side of the Westfall High School gymnasium about 8:30 a.m. Friday sending 20-foot flames shooting into the sky.

Actual fire damage was confined to the 30-foot by 8-foot room, although a considerable amount of smoke filled the which ignited Friday morning in the Westfall High School. The blaze caused an undetermined amount of adjacent gymnasium and did some damage to its dome roof. The thick smoke hindered firemen in their attempt to clear the room of its contents.

PICKAWAY County Historical Society has received a certificate of recognition from South Central Ohio Preservation Society for preserving and restoring a historical landmark, the Clarke-May Museum, it was announced today by Mrs. Richard Jones and Mrs. Don Miller, county co-chairmen of SCOPS.

A bronze plaque will be presented by an anonymous donor for the museum.

FORMER Columbus Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner was in Roundtown Thursday passing out American Flag rings. He stopped to chat with anyone who wasn't too busy, including neighbors living near his old home on E. Union St., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Furness and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Conkel.

Police Detective Remains Critical
CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati police detective Howard Smith, in a coma since he was wounded during an attempted bank robbery Dec. 20, was conscious today but still in critical condition at a hospital.

Smith, who regained consciousness Thursday for the first time, was hit in the head and back by a shotgun blast from one of two would-be hold-up men at the Fifth Third Bank branch in the Mohawk section.

Smith, who had been working parttime as a guard, foiled the holdup.

An additional attack on the bill was expected today from supporters of U.S. Sen. Henry "Scoop" Jackson, D-Wash., who are seeking to push back the filing deadline for delegate candidates.

One action could help the other, according to Secretary of State Ted Brown.

Gas masks were worn by fire fighters who entered the room and exhaust fans were used both on the roof and in the gym to clear some of the smoke.

Ed Holmes, guidance counselor at the school, said a student, passing through the auditorium, noticed the fire and immediately contacted school officials who sounded the fire alarm and called the Williamsport Volunteer Fire Department.

SCHOOL administrators attempted to subdue the blaze with fire extinguishers, but the smoke forced them from the building.

Minutes later, a Williamsport

Federal Court Plans Videotape Use In April

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. District Court in Cleveland will be the first federal court in the nation to use videotaped testimony for entire trials.

An Ohio court is so far the only one in the country to have used it for an entire trial, while another federal court and some state courts have used it for some testimony for presentation during trials.

Judge Thomas Lambros said Thursday he initially plans to use videotaped testimony in two trials — a complicated antitrust case that could take up to two months' conventional court time and a personal injury case. He said he hopes to start using the technique in April.

"I'm convinced that videotape can be used effectively to bust up the logjams in the courts," Lambros said. "The courts should move promptly to avail themselves of this new scientific technique."

while the legislature works out another plan.

Attorney Michael Coffey, a Lake County commissioner who is active in Jackson's presidential campaign in Ohio, said suits would be filed today in both federal and state courts asking that a new deadline be set in mid or late March.

Coffey said Democratic voters in Ohio are being denied the right to choose between candidates because there has been insufficient time for some

16 Quit In Academy Probe

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — U.S. Air Force Academy officials say they expect many more resignations in addition to the 16 cadets who have already quit in a probe of academic cheating and other violations of the school's honor code.

Lt. Gen. Albert P. Clark, academy superintendent, said Thursday night the cadets themselves are conducting the investigation and are checking a list of about 75 names, of which 23 are seriously implicated.

"All of these cases where the honor violations are confirmed will result in resignations," Clark said.

The latest investigation is the third involving cheating at the 3,900-student Air Academy since 1965.

Clark said most violations involved "academic cheating, with one or two cases of stealing from fellow cadets."

He said the form of cheating involved "sharing information of a written examination in advance of the examination, so that the cadet who gave the information and he who received it are both guilty in violation of the code."

The academy superintendent said many of those implicated are accused of knowing about cheating and failing to report it.

Clark and Brig. Gen. Walter T. Galligan, commandant of cadets, agreed there would be more resignations, but they refused to speculate what the final number might be. Those resigning from the academy are given honorable discharges, Clark said.

The honor code reads: "We will not lie, steal or cheat, nor tolerate among us anyone who does."

Names of the implicated cadets will not be released, Clark said.

Clark and Galligan said the investigation started Wednesday night when a cadet under surveillance for suspicion of petty theft was confronted by cadet members of the honor committee.

Galligan said the cadet broke down and indicated his case was only "a piece of the action." He resigned, Clark said.

"I would be a great deal more worried if this (the violations) did not surface," Clark said. "The cadets themselves have discovered these cases and are conducting the investigation. They are living under their own standards."

The 13-year-old academy underwent its first major cheating probe in 1965, when 109 cadets resigned as a result of involvement in the theft, sale and improper use of examination papers. In 1967 another 46 resigned for either exchanging information on exams or for having knowledge of the cheating but not reporting it.

From Each Plane
After Crashes

SAIGON (AP) — The United States lost its 13th and 14th planes since the mid-December stepup in the Indochina air war when North Vietnamese gunners shot down two Air Force F4 Phantom jets Thursday over Laos.

The two crewmen of each plane were rescued, the U.S. Command said. The supersonic fighter-bombers were the first reported lost to the enemy's strengthened anti-aircraft defenses in Laos this year.

The command said one of the Phantoms was bombing along the border just west of Khe Sanh when it was hit by enemy ground fire and crashed. The two crewmen ejected and were rescued within 30 minutes.

The other Phantom was hit about the same time while on a scouting mission over the Plain of Jars some 250 miles to the north, the command said.

Air Force B52s flew their fifth day of intensive raids along the western side of South Vietnam's central highlands where a North Vietnamese buildup has given rise to speculation that another major ene-

Flu Claims Lives Of 843 In 15 Days

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The National Center for Disease Control says Hong Kong flu has claimed nearly a thousand lives this year, especially among the elderly and chronically ill.

In its report for the week ending Jan. 15, the center said Thursday 843 deaths were attributed to either influenza or pneumonia, 268 deaths higher than normal.

There were confirmed regional outbreaks of the flu in 15 states, isolated outbreaks in 14 states and respiratory illnesses not yet confirmed as the Hong Kong variety in 10 states, the report said.

The Hong Kong-type flu struck many areas of the United States in 1968-69, killing 27,900 persons. The CDC said most were elderly, the ones who suffer most from influenza.

The center said widespread outbreaks have been reported this month in Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Nebraska, Delaware and Colorado.

Regional outbreaks have been reported in New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Minnesota, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota, Maryland, North Carolina, Texas, Louisiana, Idaho, Montana and Oregon.

Nixon Tries To Corner Democrats

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, in an artful key-note to his re-election campaign, has lectured the Democrats on partisanship while offering the nation a catalogue of his own political wares.

He took his text, ironically, from former President Harry S. Truman, whose call for cooperation from a Republican Congress later gave way to a re-election campaign in which that same Congress was the chief target.

Something like that could happen in 1972. The 92nd Congress is dominated by Democrats. Nixon's Democratic challenger is likely to come from the Senate. And there is no chance Congress will enact in this campaign year all the things Nixon said it should.

There were few new proposals in his State of the Union message Thursday, but Nixon called for enactment of more than 90 leftover administration proposals.

He guaranteed a major, time-consuming Senate battle by recommending an increase of perhaps $3.7 billion in defense spending.

And he said he would propose later in the year a program to overhaul the financing of public schools and ease the burden on property taxpayers.

That would be a major political lure, and even Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said he doubted such a measure could pass Congress this year.

Nixon is known to favor the idea of a value-added tax, a form of national sales tax, to ease the property-tax burden. Liberal Democrats are certain to resist such a proposal.

Nixon has said he will not make public partisan appearances before Aug. 21, when the Republican National Convention begins. By that time, proxy campaigners could be casting him as the President who tried to do something about soaring property taxes only to be blocked by an opposition Congress.

Nixon, however, said he was

Gilligan Sees Pay Boost OK

Expects Federal Decision Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan signed legislation Thursday granting a 10 per cent across-the-board pay raise to state employees and said he was confident the increase will get federal approval.

"It is my hope," he said, "that by the end of the next pay period, in two weeks, we will have the required approval and can begin paying our state employees the increases they so richly deserve."

Federal Pay Board approval of the raises is required before they can be included in paychecks, because they exceed the general federal maximum of 5.5 per cent.

But Gilligan said he was confident the raises will get federal approval under "catchup provisions of the guidelines."

If approved, the raises will be retroactive to Jan. 1. Gilligan also signed into law Thursday bills to redistrict Ohio into 23 congressional districts and to permit political convention delegate candidates in the state primary to run as a bloc under the name of the presidential candidate they support.

In other legislative action Thursday, a bill to permit all public employees to take their accrued sick leave as a "bonus" upon retirement was introduced by Rep. Mark Pemberton, R-61 Columbus, during a House skeleton session.

State employees and county welfare workers were covered by an identical provision in the pay raise bill.

Rep. Paul Pfeifer, R-15 Bucyrus, offered a measure which would require that church buses meet the same safety requirements as school buses.

Queen's Pay Boost Given Final Approval

LONDON (AP) — The House of Commons has given final approval to a big pay hike for Queen Elizabeth II.

The bill approved Wednesday night boosts her annual allowance from the state from $1.24 million to $2.55 million. A Labor party move to cut the allowance to $1.04 million was rejected.

New Atomic Missile Subs Could Force Soviet Hand

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's order to speed development of a new generation of deadlier, missile-firing submarines appears aimed at keeping the upper hand while prodding the Soviet Union toward an undersea-weapons-curb agreement.

"Even as we seek with the greatest urgency stable controls on armaments, we cannot ignore the fact that others are going forward with major increases in their own programs," Nixon said in his State of the Union address Thursday.

It was a clear signal to the Soviets that the United States is prepared to build a new undersea-launched missile system (ULMS) unless a satisfactory agreement is worked out in the strategic arms limitation talks in Vienna.

While progress has been reported in efforts to limit U.S. and Soviet antiballistic missile systems and land-based offensive missiles, SALT negotiators are said to be deadlocked over Moscow's refusal to restrict undersea missiles.

The Soviets are now only beginning to catch up in the num-

8 Blacks Die In Violence

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Police killed eight blacks and wounded 14 during rioting Thursday night in an African sector of Umtali, 135 miles southeast of Salisbury, the government reported today.

This brought the death toll to 14, all blacks, since rioting in various Rhodesian cities began Sunday in protest of the proposed independence agreement between the British and Rhodesian governments. Police killed three other blacks in Salisbury Wednesday night.

The violence was touched off by the arrival of a British commission to assess the reaction of both the white minority and the black majority to the agreement. It provides for some enlargement of black representation in parliament but postpones a majority rule indefinitely.

The suit was brought on behalf of all Ohioans by Forest

Hill of Xenia and Mary Bradstreet of Oakwood. Their attorney, Harry Jeffrey of Dayton, said the plaintiffs are Republicans.

Jeffrey, who was a Republican congressman from Montgomery County in 1943 and 1944, acknowledged that the redistricting plan, as drawn, favors Republicans.

But he said the plan's failure to come as near as practicable to "one-man, one-vote" was his

Nixon Plans Drug Abuse Crackdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, asking Congress for more power to combat narcotics abuse, says he will soon begin "a major new program to drive drug traffickers and pushers off the streets of America."

This will involve a national network of "investigative and prosecutive units, utilizing special grand juries established under the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970, to assist state and local agencies in detecting, arresting and convicting those who would profit from the misery of others," he said Thursday.

The United States also "will continue to press for a strong collective effort by nations throughout the world to eliminate drugs at their source," Nixon said in the written version of his State of the Union address.

"And we will intensify the worldwide attack on drug smugglers and all who protect them. We will also step up our program to curb illicit drug traffic at our borders and within our country," Nixon added.

Renewing a request he made last year, Nixon urged Congress to give the status of law to the special Drug Abuse Prevention Office which he created through executive order. Legislation doing that is expected to be passed by Congress this year, although precise money figures have not been determined by the legislators.

The Soviets are now only beginning to catch up in the number of missile-firing submarines. The prospect of a new weapon like ULMS in the U.S. arsenal could put Moscow at an even greater disadvantage.

The new defense budget, due to go to Congress Monday, requests more than $900 million to improve the U.S. sea-based deterrent force, Nixon said.

Pentagon sources said most of it will go for ULMS—a nine-fold increase over last year's spending. A fleet of these weapons ultimately would cost more than $15 billion.

ULMS involves development of both a new type submarine and a new missile with a range of about 6,000 miles, about twice the reach of present U.S. Polaris and Poseidon missiles.

Also in line with Nixon's goal "to improve and protect, to diversify and disperse our strategic forces," are budget requests for converting 31 of the 41 Polaris submarines to the multiwarhead Poseidon missile, replacing older land-based missiles with the triple-warhead Minuteman III and deploying the Safeguard antimissile system.

Man Serving Life Terms Is Awarded College Degree

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — William G. Heirens, serving three consecutive life sentences for murders he committed 26 years ago, soon will become the first person in Illinois history to earn a college degree while a prison inmate.

Heirens was a 17-year-old college student in 1946 when he was convicted of the dismemberment slaying of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan after kidnapping her and of earlier slayings of Frances Brown and Josephine Ross, all of Chicago.

He has been confined to Stateville Penitentiary since and is unlikely to ever be released.

Heirens has been measured for a new suit he'll wear to graduation ceremonies under the traditional cap and gown. He is working on his last college term paper and will take his last college examination on Sunday.

He will leave the prison's honor farm, where he has been since last June, and take a short trip to Lewis College to receive his degree Feb. 6.

Heirens has completed 197 semester hours of college credit through television courses, extension courses and classes conducted at the prison by visiting professors.

"He probably has more college credits than anyone except a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree," said Terence

Dock Strike Fight Set

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon announces a legislative proposal today aimed at halting the costly West Coast dock strike.

Nixon emphasized his concern about the dock walkout by adding two sentences to his State of the Union address Thursday.

He urged prompt enactment of a long-pending administration bill designed to avert major transportation tieups and added:

"The West Coast dock strike is a case in point. This nation cannot and will not tolerate that kind of irresponsible labor tieups in the future."

Nixon invoked the Taft-Hartley Act for the first time last October to suspend for 80 days a walkout by members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union against the Pacific Maritime Association.

Although the injunction expired Christmas Day, renewed negotiations held off resumption of the strike until Monday,

Ohio Congressional Remap Faces Challenges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More uncertainty surrounds Ohio congressional elections and the selection of political convention delegates as the result of legal actions being taken around the state.

The ink was hardly dry after Gov. John Gilligan signed the new congressional redistricting law Thursday when a suit was filed in federal court in Dayton challenging the constitutionality of the statute.

An additional attack on the bill was expected today from supporters of U.S. Sen. Henry "Scoop" Jackson, D-Wash., who are seeking to push back the filing deadline for delegate candidates.

One action could help the other, according to Secretary of State Ted Brown. If the federal court finds the congressional redistricting law unconstitutional, Brown said, the filing deadline probably would have to be moved back closer to the May primary while the legislature works out another plan.

Attorney Michael Coffey, a Lake County commissioner who is active in Jackson's presidential campaign in Ohio, said suits would be filed today in both federal and state courts asking that a new deadline be set in mid or late March.

Coffey said Democratic voters in Ohio are being denied the right to choose between candidates because there has been insufficient time for some candidates, particularly Jackson, to put together delegate slates.

Dayton seeks a preliminary injunction enjoining Brown from going ahead with the 1972 elections under the redistricting law and asks that a three-judge federal panel hear the case.

It claims variations in populations between districts violate the U.S. Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" edict.

The suit was brought on behalf of all Ohioans by Forest

Hill of Xenia and Mary Bradstreet of Oakwood. Their attorney, Harry Jeffrey of Dayton, said the plaintiffs are Republicans.

JVS Considers Site Proposals

Site selection committee of the joint vocational school board announced Thursday evening that six sites had been offered for the board's consideration as a location for the new Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational High School.

The six real estate proposals all fall within the broad boundaries set by the committee in January. The area being considered is bounded on the east and west by Routes 159 and 104 and must lie between Circleville and Chillicothe.

On Monday the committee, architects and JVS officials will tour the areas and rate them for their accessibility, and suitability for sewage, utilities and other requirements. Reports indicate at least three other landowners may offer sites for the school in the near future.

The board is pushing ahead on the building program and hopes to have the final decision on the site and negotiations underway by late February. To speed matters they have asked that all offers of land be submitted in writing to James E. Shope, superintendent of Ross County Schools by mid February, including a sale price per acre and other information which would be of value in selecting the final site. FRANK Oliverio, assistant director of the State Vocational Education Department was present to answer board members' questions about state funds for building. The local district's funds are expected for approval at the state board's meeting Feb. 14. Oliverio assured the board that state funds for operation are available now, even though the local share of operating money will not be available until 1973. So after appropriation estimates are ironed out by committees it will be possible for the board to employ a superintendent for the district, full or part time.

Guest at Thursday's meeting was Father Snoko, representing the parochial schools in Ross County. Also in attendance were all board members and advisory committee.

Next meeting of the board is slated Feb. 23 at Chillicothe High School.

the speaker at last night's meeting; new members Mike Lorentz and Danny Robinson; and Circleville President Jake Bailey. It was announced an Easter Egg hunt will be held for students of Brooks - Yates School in April.

Flood Of Soviet Jews Poses Big Problems For Israel

TEL AVIV (AP) — Nightly airlifts from Vienna to Lod airport outside Tel Aviv are swelling the immigration of Jewish families from the Soviet Union to Israel from a trickle to a flood.

Israeli immigration officials predict as many as 40,000 Soviet immigrants—each carrying only the equivalent of $100 and a crate of belongings for each family—may move to Israel this year. December recorded 3,000, and the January figure promises to be the same.

The mass immigration poses huge financial and housing problems, but Premier Golda Meir summed up the Israeli government's attitude toward the newcomers when she said, "I pray for a million such problems."

Moscow has threatened to swamp Israel with immigrants, Finance Minister Pinhas Sapir told the world Zionist Congress in Jerusalem, but "we shall receive this flood gladly."

"Never has such a mighty state menaced such a tiny nation with such a threat—a threat which is received with the fervent hope that it will be implemented," Sapir declared.

Israel wants manpower, whatever the cost, to strengthen the population of 2 million Jews.

The Soviet Union, with a Jewish population estimated at three million, could become a major source of manpower. Russian immigrants stepping off the jumbo jets this week said they had almost no trouble getting exit permits.

Israel absorbed 690,000 immigrants during 1948-51. It anticipates in 1972 in addition to the Russians 10,000 Jewish settlers from North America, 5,000 from South America and 15,000 from East Europe and other regions.

The Russian newcomers are poor. The Jewish Agency treasurer, Leon Dulzin, estimates "it costs $26,000 to absorb every family of four Russians in Israel."

not presenting Congress with proposals "which have attractive labels but no hope of passage." He said he was proposing vital programs Congress could handle, and added that they should be beyond partisanship.

Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., in praising Nixon, may have offered the best summation of the President's political thrust:

"The President put the cat on the back of the Democratic-led Congress."

The 15,000-word written message Nixon delivered along with his speech is likely to provide Republican campaigners with a sort of advance GOP platform.

It recites administration achievements, programs and proposals for the young, the old, the black, for women, farmers, labor, the jobless.

Nixon began his televised speech by recalling that 25 years ago he sat as a freshman congressman from California and heard Truman call on Congress to put aside partisan considerations for the national interest.

It was Jan. 6, 1947, and what Truman said was this:

"Men who differ can still work together sincerely for the common good. We shall be risking the nation's safety and destroying our opportunities for progress if we do not settle any disagreements in this spirit, without thought of partisan advantage."

For Truman, the next campaign was a year away, in 1948. He spent it whistle-stopping the nation, denouncing "that do-nothing, 80th Republican Congress." He won in an upset.

For Nixon, the campaign year is here.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's hopes for avoiding Democratic criticism of his State of the Union message lasted about as long as it took Edmund S. Muskie and Hubert H. Humphrey to reach the television cameras.

And Democrats were to take to the airwaves today with an hour-long live television-radio response featuring questions phoned in by listeners around the country.

The prompt response to Nixon's State of the Union message, delivered Thursday, served to underscore the fact that this is a presidential-election year and that Nixon himself is a declared candidate for a second term.

Republican reaction was generally favorable, but even a few GOP members of Congress registered complaints.

Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, called the speech a "depressing blend of liberal utopianism in domestic policy and continued apathy concerning our deteriorating national security."

The U.S. Command said a troop of U.S. air cavalry and part of an artillery battery had been moved to Pleiku, in the highlands, to replace part of a withdrawing American infantry battalion that had been on security duty there.

The U.S. Command also reported the loss of a small observation helicopter to enemy ground fire 29 miles southwest of Hue, and said two crewmen were wounded. It was the second helicopter lost in that area in two days.

Hughes Book Publication Is Delayed

NEW YORK (AP) — McGraw-Hill, Inc., and Life magazine say they will defer publication of a purported autobiography of Howard Hughes pending an investigation of a Swiss bank account in the reclusive billionaire's name.

Both publishing firms emphasized in a joint statement Thursday that "we continue to believe that the material we have contains the authentic language and words of Howard Hughes."

But they said an investigation "has just developed questions concerning the holder of the bank account at the Swiss Credit Bank in Zurich in which checks made out to H. R. Hughes were endorsed and deposited."

Author Clifford Irving has insisted that Hughes collaborated on the book in a series of secret meetings with him, and McGraw-Hill says it paid Hughes about $750,000 for the material.

But in a long-distance telephone news conference Jan. 7, a voice identified as that of Hughes denied that he had ever met Irving or that he had received any money for the work.

A Nevada publishing company which claims it has exclusive rights to Hughes' life story, has sued in state Supreme Court seeking to block publication of the McGraw-Hill book and Life articles.

Life had planned to start its three-part series in the Feb. 11 issue. McGraw-Hill's publication date was set for March 10.

Sales Tax Receipts Down In December

Sales tax collections in Pickaway County for the month of December were $111,404.69, a decrease of 8.90 per cent over collections for December of 1970 according to a report from Gertrude Donahey, state treasurer.

Collections for the current fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1971 to Dec. 31, 1971 are $404,407.46 compared to $357,456.16 a year ago.

Motor vehicle tax collections for December, 1971, were $36,302.68 compared to $44,770.78 a year ago, a decrease of 18.91 per cent. Motor vehicle tax collections for the first six months of the fiscal year are $248,736.52 a year ago.

Guilty Of Soliciting

Dennis Rawlins pleaded guilty to soliciting an act of sodomy before Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Wednesday and not sodomy as reported in Thursday's Herald.

Ashbrook, who is opposing Nixon in the New Hampshire presidential primary, said the speech had widened the split between Nixon and conservative Republicans.

Muskie called the half-hour address "an empty speech." Humphrey said it created "a major confrontation with the leaders of Congress" and is unlikely to bring favorable action on the President's stalled legislative program.

In the major new note of his speech, Nixon pledged to unveil later this year what he termed a revolutionary plan to ease the reliance on property taxes to finance public education. This could be a proposal for a value-added tax—in essence a national sales tax.

Nixon's pledge to maintain local control over schools drew the biggest of the 13 interruptions for applause, but his own timetable plus a distinctly mixed response to the idea of a value-added tax makes action on the school-funding proposal unlikely this year.

Nixon also appealed for action on "more than 90 major administrative proposals" pending before Congress for a year or more.

Democratic criticism centered on Nixon's request for an increase in defense spending and his statements that the nation's economy is improving despite continued high unemployment.

Zoning Petitions Ruled Invalid

A ruling was issued Thursday afternoon declaring referendum petitions seeking public vote on rezoning in Washington Twp. invalid.

J. Donald Ratcliff, a Ross County Common Pleas judge on assignment here to hear testimony in this case, released the decision yesterday, ordering the Pickaway County Board of Elections not to submit the zoning issue to voters of the township because the petitions were not valid.

Election board officials had refused the sheets of signatures for the November 1971 general election, claiming that they lacked some information required by law. A paragraph including the information that the area to be rezoned was to be switched to residential-commercial classification and its location was omitted from the petitions. The area actually involved 38 acres on the north-east side of Trimmer Road owned by James Trimmer, who is seeking to build a trailer park there.

Mine Violence Witness Fingers Union Leader

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP)—Chief Deputy John Pothorski of the Carroll County Sheriff's Department has testified that James Russell was in the band of roving pickets that caused considerable damage at the James Brothers Coal Co. mine in Rose Township last Oct. 16.

He also told a common pleas jury Thursday of a confrontation with Russell and of being assaulted during the melee at the mine.

Ernest Bowman, weighmaster at the mine, also testified that Russell, a United Mine Workers organizer, was one of the pickets.

Russell, 28, of New Philadelphia, is being tried on a charge of malicious destruction of property in connection with the firebombing of Bowman's truck at the mine.

Injured Justus Boy Home From Hospital

Timothy Justus, Route 1, Stoutsville, has been released from University Hospital in Columbus and will be able to return to school Tuesday, according to information received today.

The 13-year-old was badly injured about two weeks ago when a shotgun went off in the palm of his hand while he was hunting.

Young Justus will have to return to the hospital later for further surgery on his hand.

JVS Considers Site Proposals

Site selection committee of the joint vocational school board announced Thursday evening that six sites had been offered for the board's consideration as a location for the new Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational High School.

The six real estate proposals all fall within the broad boundaries set by the committee in January. The area being considered is bounded on the east and west by Routes 159 and 104 and must lie between Circleville and Chillicothe.

On Monday the committee, architects and JVS officials will tour the areas and rate them for their accessibility, and suitability for sewage, utilities and other requirements. Reports indicate at least three other landowners may offer sites for the school in the near future.

The board is pushing ahead on the building program and hopes to have the final decision on the site and negotiations underway by late February. To speed matters they have asked that all offers of land be submitted in writing to James E. Shope, superintendent of Ross

County Schools by mid-February, including a sale price per acre and other information which would be of value in selecting the final site. Shope's mailing address is 53 W. Fourth St., Chillicothe, Ohio 45601.

Author Clifford Irving has insisted that Hughes collaborated on the book in a series of secret meetings with him, and McGraw-Hill says it paid Hughes about $750,000 for the material.

But in a long-distance telephone news conference Jan. 7, a voice identified as that of Hughes denied that he had ever met Irving or that he had received any money for the work.

A Nevada publishing company which claims it has exclusive rights to Hughes' life story, has sued in state Supreme Court seeking to block publication of the McGraw-Hill book and Life articles.

Life had planned to start its three-part series in the Feb. 11 issue. McGraw-Hill's publication date was set for March 10.

Mine Violence Witness Fingers Union Leader

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Chief Deputy John Pothorski of the Carroll County Sheriff's Department has testified that James Russell was in the band of roving pickets that caused considerable damage at the James Brothers Coal Co. mine in Rose Township last Oct. 16.

He also told a common pleas jury Thursday of a confrontation with Russell and of being assaulted during the melee at the mine.

Ernest Bowman, weighmaster at the mine, also testified that Russell, a United Mine Workers organizer, was one of the pickets.

Russell, 28, of New Philadelphia, is being tried on a charge of malicious destruction of property in connection with the firebombing of Bowman's truck at the mine.

Injured Justus Boy Home From Hospital

Timothy Justus, Route 1, Stoutsville, has been released from University Hospital in Columbus and will be able to return to school Tuesday, according to information received today.

The 13-year-old was badly injured about two weeks ago when a shotgun went off in the palm of his hand while he was hunting.

Young Justus will have to return to the hospital later for further surgery on his hand.

Guilty Of Soliciting
Dennis Rawlins pleaded guilty to soliciting an act of sodomy before Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Wednesday and not sodomy as reported in Thursday's Herald.

Ashbrook, who is opposing Nixon in the New Hampshire presidential primary, said the speech had widened the split between Nixon and conservative Republicans.

Muskie called the half-hour address "an empty speech." Humphrey said it created "a major confrontation with the leaders of Congress" and is unlikely to bring favorable action on the President's stalled legislative program.

In the major new note of his speech, Nixon pledged to unveil later this year what he termed a revolutionary plan to ease the reliance on property taxes to finance public education. This could be a proposal for a value-added tax—in essence a national sales tax.

Nixon's pledge to maintain local control over schools drew the biggest of the 13 interruptions for applause, but his own timetable plus a distinctly mixed response to the idea of a value-added tax makes action on the school-funding proposal unlikely this year.

Nixon also appealed for action on "more than 90 major administrative proposals" pending before Congress for a year or more.

Democratic criticism centered on Nixon's request for an increase in defense spending and his statements that the nation's economy is improving despite continued high unemployment.

Zoning Petitions Ruled Invalid

A ruling was issued Thursday afternoon declaring referendum petitions seeking public vote on rezoning in Washington Twp. invalid.

J. Donald Ratcliff, a Ross County Common Pleas judge on assignment here to hear testimony in this case, released the decision yesterday, ordering the Pickaway County Board of Elections not to submit the zoning issue to voters of the township because the petitions were not valid.

Election board officials had refused the sheets of signatures for the November 1971 general election, claiming that they lacked some information required by law. A paragraph including the information that the area to be rezoned was to be switched to residential-commercial classification and its location was omitted from the petitions. The area actually involved 38 acres on the northeast side of Trimmer Road owned by James Trimmer, who is seeking to build a trailer park there.

Services will be 2 p.m. Monday at Mader Funeral Home with the Rev. Paul Wachs officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Saturday.

Here are some new titles with appeal for men. Of course, wives may peek at them, too. "The Gremlin's Grandpa," listed last, is a mystery for everyone. Obviously a railroad buff, Wesley S. Griswald has just completed his second book on the subject, "Train Wreck." Since 1827, when railroad service was inaugurated, there have been numerous and wonderfully inventive safety devices put into use. But sad ghastly wrecks preceded them. Mr. Griswald's book contains remarkable reconstruction of events leading up to and following such tragedies. There is a rich lode of human interest and a certain fascination about these violent events. In this book dramatic newspaper pictures make them touchingly real.

Is the ocean becoming the new frontier, possibly the final battleground? This question is raised in "The Twelfth Mile," a gripping sea story by E. G. Perrault. Hero of this salty yarn is the Haida Noble, a magnificent tug working off the western coast of Canada. Volcanic eruptions which cause tidal waves, "oceanographic research" vessels eavesdropping within the offshore limits, and an almost unbelievably huge oil drilling rig are but a few of the unknowns the Haida encounters. Men will enjoy this book, and so will women who like a fast tale of contemporary adventure.

In a scathing report, Eugene Sullivan condemns the automobile insurance industry. He claims that it charges excessive rates, that agents retain unreasonably large percentages of premiums, and that accident victims are often treated with callous injustice. His book is titled "Where did the Thirteen Billion Go? or How We Can Keep our Insurance Problems from Ruining Our Lives." His is obviously a biased opinion, but does shed light on an important issue.

While the FCC is responsible for the recognition of telephone rates, communication satellites and allocation of frequencies, Nicholas Johnson, commission member, discusses little of these. In "How to Talk Back to Your Television Set" he notes the impact of television watching on this generation and its visible effects. Basically, the FCC is to act in such a way as to serve the public interest. But in truth, he says, broadcasting today is run by corporations which have a virtual lease in perpetuity of the right to broadcast. If the medium has as much influence on its advertising as peddlers claim, then it must also stamp its image of violence on its viewers. If you wish to complain, Mr. Johnson tells you how.

White cotton work gloves, a red plaid lumberman's jacket, and a fake beard were the clues. But Lt. Reardon, of the San Francisco cops, was equal to the job. He solved a fast-paced mystery in "The Gremlin's Grandpa" by Robert L. Pike. In case you're wondering, a Gremlin's Grandpa is a drink.

Campbell Soup Co. Says Bowls All Right
CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — The Campbell Soup Co. says its tests show "no health hazard" from use of soup bowls which were distributed in a sales promotion campaign for the company in September.

The Chicago Board of Health advised area residents Wednesday that tests showed traces of cadmium and lead deposits and said the bowls should be disposed of.

Equitable Federal Re-Elects Two Directors, Officers

Walter F. Peterseim and W. Harold Clifton were re-elected as directors at the annual members' meeting of Equitable Federal Savings and Loan Association Wednesday. Other directors are Donald C. Miller, Dwight Heister, Russell W. Alt and Charles H. Drinkle.

Election of officers was announced following the annual organizational meeting of directors of the association. Officers re-elected were Donald C. Miller, chairman of the board; Dwight Heister, president and managing officer; Charles H. Drinkle, first vice president; Carl C. Heister, second vice president and secretary; Frederick T. Gill, controller; Ronald N. Smith, treasurer; James J. Hoff, assistant vice-president; Helen A. Hempleman, assistant secretary; Dorothy J. LeFever, assistant secretary; Nelson Stevens, branch manager; and Terry W. Daugherty, credit manager.

Joseph E. Winegardner was promoted to assistant secretary. His duties include property appraisals and loan application interviews.

According to the annual report, 1971 was the greatest year in the history of the association (a history that goes back to 1899.) The report shows outstanding gains in all areas during 1971.

Total assets increased by $9,620,966.74 to a new high of $42,870,057.62, a gain of 28.9 per cent for the year. This growth was more than double the previous record for the association. Equitable is one of the largest savings and loan associations in southeast Ohio and is one of the 100 largest associations in the state.

Savings deposits grew by $8,307,314.72, a record 28.5 per cent gain for the year. At year end, deposits totaled $37,412,852.08.

During 1971 Equitable loaned over $13,400,000. to more than 780 area residents, primarily for the purchase or construction of homes. This lending volume is nearly 100 per cent greater than the 1970 record. The association now has 3,200 loans in force amounting to $36,486,401.84.

The association's 9,600 savers received $1,745,586. in interest during 1971, an increase of $388,746. over 1970.

In other news, it was noted that in January, 1971, the association began paying interest from day of deposit to day withdrawn on passbook savings accounts, a "first" in this area.

Extended drive-in and lobby hours were initiated in June and were well received by customers. The association's main office and drive-in windows are now open until 5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, open until 7 p.m. on Friday, and open until noon on Saturday.

Finally, the report notes that the housing picture for 1972 looks good for this market area. Continued favorable savings flows are anticipated, and the association expects to have an ample supply of money to take care of the expected demand for loans to purchase, to build, or to improve homes in the area.

Woman Chairman Sees Long Way To Go

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The first woman ever to be appointed chairman of a federal regulatory commission says women still have a long way to go to gain equal employment opportunities.

"In the federal government, where equal opportunity has been a goal for years, the sex discrimination problem has not been solved," said Helen Delich Bentley, chairman of the U.S. Maritime Commission.

Chopstick Tour

A number of ifs remain to be ironed out, but about the same time Richard Nixon is being received in Peking next month another first of some magnitude could be occurring in China.

The French Line has announced a proposed bonus for passengers on the S.S. France when it makes its scheduled stop at Hong Kong—a two-day visit to Canton, China.

Final arrangements have not been completed and they may not materialize. But if they do, it will be the first wholesale invasion of tourists behind the bamboo curtain in at least five years.

For any Americans on board who chose to go, it would be the first entry for U.S. tourists in nearly a quarter century.

It is entirely up to Peking, of course, whether it wants to normalize relations with the rest of the world to this extent. Whichever way the decision goes will at least provide a hint as to the current political climate hovering over the Chinese mainland.

Not Time Nor Place

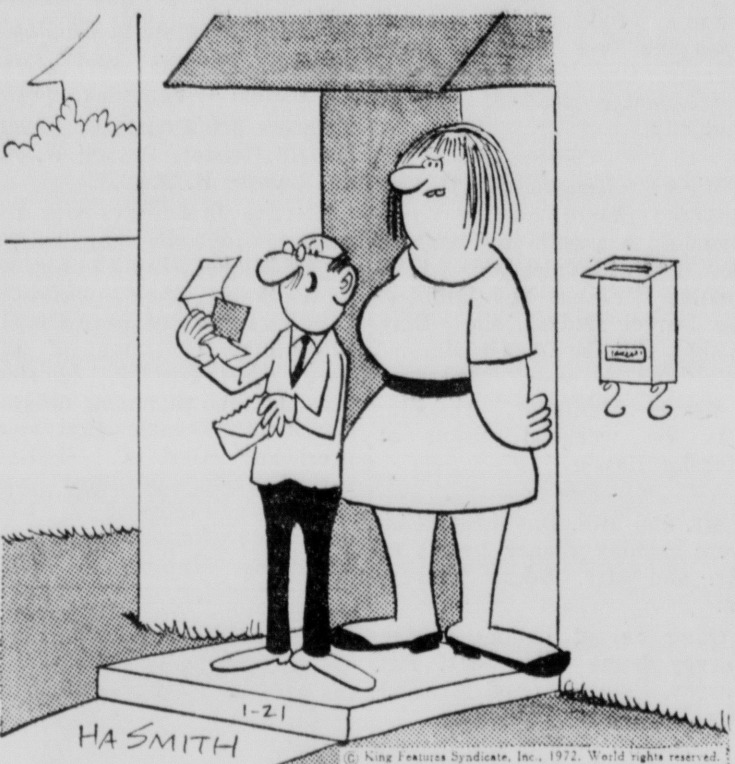

If a foreign visitor were imprudent enough to complain publicly about his homeland while here, chances are his remark would be unappreciated by government and misunderstood by many American. The same situation exists when Americans go abroad and for whatever reason picture their country in less than complimentary terms.

Free speech is a basic right of every American citizen, whether at home or abroad. But there are time and conditions when the proper exercise of that right requires some restraint. That is particularly true of persons of some renown who are a natural subject to news interest in their overseas travel. Discouraging words about his government by a traveling member of Congress, for instance, easily are distorted in a foreign land by a press which does not practice responsible journalism and may be hostile to the United States.

Such instances have occurred and probably will again. No one is going to stop Americans from bad-mouthing their country while abroad. The indiscretion, however, reflect more on the individual than on the nation he represents only by citizenship.

Laff-A-Day

SATURDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening for you to release various projects and ventures that you want to put in motion. Accept advice from someone who can help you with them now. Your mind is working overtime, combining good judgment and accurate hunches. Use them fully.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A day and evening when much can be accomplished, so get an early start. Contact good friends and state your aims. Gain their cooperation. Show that you have wisdom.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The morning is fine for talking over new arrangements with others, and gathering information you need. The evening should be devoted to the romantic side of life. Be sure to follow your hunches.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) An ideal day to entertain since you are in a congenial frame of mind. State your personal aims to right persons at gathering. Show that you are a thoughtful person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you demonstrate your finest abilities to bigwigs today, you gain their favor and support. Stop being so self-conscious. Give your support to bigwigs in a civil matter.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have fine ideas that you can put in operation now and add to present success. You also gain the respect of prominent persons. Listen to the suggestions of a good friend.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Respected advisers now can assist you to put your business and personal affairs on a much better basis with substantial support. Please mate in a different way tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good day to discuss any differences you have with associates and come to a better understanding. This will work it. Take it easy tonight at home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are now free to do the work you enjoy the most and make much progress. Later take those treatments you need to feel fit. Show particular concern for kin tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to enjoy recreations and can do so with ease since the planets are favorable for such. Join with those who are truly congenial. Avoid quarrelsome persons.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can do something today to get situation much improved at home. You have new interests to work on that can become a real success in the future. Have fun with kin tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't neglect to do your shopping, writing letters and handling a transportation problem. If you are active, you can improve your life considerably. Relax tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) An ideal day to talk over your practical financial ambitions with experts and get the right advice. A good time to study future plans. Don't lose your temper in the evening.

The big prize that Richard Nixon hopes to bring back from Peking is an agreement that will enable the U.S. to pull its ground forces out of Southeast Asia without collapsing President Thieu's government in South Vietnam. But what if Nixon gets a deal with a Peking regime that is, as the Chinese figure of speech has it, just on the verge of losing "the mandate of Heaven"?

The chances are, of course, that Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai will be around for a few more months at least. Henry Kissinger must have inquired extensively into the state of their health. Nevertheless, Mao is 78 and Chou, though he doesn't look it, is 73. More important than the ages of Red China's top rulers is that they preside over a revolution that has been devouring its subordinate leadership for a long time. The remaining "cadres" are spread thin.

I recall a cartoon of Joseph Stalin looking in a mirror after he had successively banished Leon Trotsky and purged Zinoviev, Kamenev and the rest of the Old Bolsheviks. The caption was "Alone at last!" Mao and Chou must feel the same way. First, Mao rid himself of Liu Shao-chi, his civilian Chief of State. To do this he called upon Lin Piao, his chosen "successor" and head of the army. Lin set the young Red Guards of the Cultural Revolution in motion, and the result was the decimation of the civilian party apparatus. To this day, as Free China's Ambassador to the U.S., James C. H. Shen, has recently reminded Florida and Texas audiences, no "People's Congress" has been called to choose a successor to Liu Shao-chi. There is no important person with the stature to take his place.

Having used Lin Piao to engulf Liu and his civilian supporters, Mao then turned on Lin himself. Where Lin and his chief of staff, Huang Yung-sheng, are now, nobody in the West seems to know. (If Jack Anderson could find out, it would be a useful public service.) There was the mysterious crash of a plane supposedly carrying military VIPs over Outer Mongolia on a direct navigational course to Russia, and there was the virtually coincidental grounding of the Red Chinese Air Force. Maybe Lin Piao is dead, maybe not. But one thing Henry Kissinger surely knows is that some 70 senior generals have dropped out of sight in China. The nation is loosely held together by 13 regional commanders whose loyalty to Mao and Chou could be highly provisional.

On the Soviet analogy, Mao and Chou could be in the position occupied by Stalin after the purge of Marshal Tukachevsky and his staff in the Nineteen Thirties. Without any seasoned military leadership Stalin was compelled to face Adolf Hitler — or, more important, Generals von Leeb, von Rundstedt and von Bock — almost naked. If Hitler hadn't foolishly engaged in a two-front war fueled by the U.S., Stalin would have been ruined. It could be that the disappearance of Lin Piao and Chief of Staff Huang along with the 70 senior generals explains the total failure of the Red Chinese to lift a finger in behalf of their Pakistani "clients" in the Pakistani-Indian war.

Provided that Soviet Russia's Brezhnev stays his hand, Mao and Chou will be spared the type of military onslaught that almost toppled Stalin in the early days of World War II. However, there could be a sleeping "Russian party" inside Red China that would prefer some sort of accommodation with Moscow to an alliance, whether de jure or de facto, with Richard Nixon. If the plan that crashed over Outer Mongolia is in truth carrying Red Chinese generals seeking refuge and support in Siberia, how many like-minded officers have been left behind? The question may not bother the U.S. and Maoist conferees at Peking in February. But it could crop up in a virulent guise at some later date to ruin any Washington-Peking agreement. Maybe before November, 1972, maybe after.

The point is that Nixon and Kissinger are dealing with an unstabilized country. They may get away with it, but the chance of diplomatic catastrophe remains.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Implementation of the new foreign economic policy, of which currency realignment is the chief feature, led many people to believe that American trade disadvantages were largely at an end.

More likely only the beginning has been made. Inequities exist. The United States is still sharing its markets with nations which makes it difficult for the United States to sell in theirs.

This is the situation, of course, that provoked the Nixon administration into acting. And it was the loss of large segments of the domestic markets in textiles, steel and footwear that provided evidence.

Now comes the electronics industry with figures that will seem incredible to many. In that industry, claims the brand new Electronic Industry Committee For Fair International Trade, 121,000 jobs were lost in the 1965-1970 period because of foreign competition.

This is the extent to which the country shares its market with foreign manufacturers: televisions 37 per cent, phonographs 63, radios 92, tape recorders 96, desktop calculators 71.

The U.S. trade deficit in consumer electronic products and components in 1970 alone, the committee states in a position paper, "exceeded $1 billion and could rise to more than $3.5 billion by 1976."

Those figures and the forecast provide devastating evidence, but of what? A failure of American management, a fall-off in worker productivity, a deterioration of the quality of domestic goods?

If you searched, it is likely that you could find evidence of all three defects. But certainly none of these can explain how powerful American manufacturers lost 96 per cent of their own market to foreigners.

The answer lies in unfair competition, claims the committee, formed by the heads of companies such as Zenith, Sylvania, Magnavox, and Corning. And who is the chief offender? Japan, it answers.

"The principal source of the rising tide of imports of electronic products and components and resulting trade balance deficit, decline in employment and flight of capital investment is, of course, Japan."

This is the charge: "Japanese duties on major categories of U.S. electronic products, adjusted to give effect to the imposition of border taxes, remission of internal taxes and the use of similar trade barriers, average 23.3 per cent."

By contrast: "U.S. tariffs on Japanese consumer electronic products average only approximately 5 per cent. Moreover, Japan imposes various additional nontariff barriers to imports from the U.S. . . ."

The committee has named Robert Murphy, honorary chairman of Corning International, to head its efforts to gather finances, evidence and impact with Washington.

JANUARY 1927
45 YEARS AGO

A baby daughter was born New Year's Day to Mr. and Mrs. George C. Trimmer, Washington Twp.

A Swiss family named Waltermire, in 1816, started to emigrate to America with his wife and seven sons. Mrs. Waltermire's maiden name was Roof and her brother's small family started with them.

Enroute, the dilapidated old ship was blown off course, all provisions used up and nearly three-fourths of those on board died of the Asiatic cholera, including the Waltermire parents and the entire Roof family. The ship captain, responsible to find the boys homes, bound them out giving two the name of Waltermire and two the name of Roof.

One was Joseph A. Roof who later became a Lutheran minister in Circleville — where he organized St. Paul's church in Madison Twp.

The January 1927 grand jury recommended that the interior of the county jail be thoroughly washed and painted and suggested that prisoners be given good magazines, if such could be secured by donations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wardell recalled their wedding day nearly 40 years earlier on Jan. 5, 1888. They were married at the home of the bride's parents on Seven Oaks Farm about five miles west of Circleville. They were members of two of the pioneer families of this county. In honor of the anniversary friends held a belling party for the couple at the Pickaway St. home.

Congoleum rugs were offered at "ridiculous prices" at Crist's Department Store during the January clearance sale. A 9 x 12 rug cost $9.85.

Circleville took their ancient rival Chillicothe in a basketball game, 23-9. Vlerebome's shooting and passwork advanced the CHS squad with assistance from R. F. Pickens and L. G. Snider and R. G. Maloney. Vlerebome garnered 14 points alone.

Homemade marmalade cost 25 cents at the Henn Bros. meat market and grocery. They also featured homemade mincemeat for the same price.

Jerald Marion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Marion, was appointed page in the Ohio House of Representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch went to Magnetic Springs, Ohio, where he took treatment for rheumatism.

Wash Neuner, janitor of the First National Bank, taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion at Betz's Restaurant, was reported in improved condition and would recover.

Officials at Union Carbide, health officials and two state agencies said they had no idea how much of the solvent was released in the Kanawha River, but all had representatives at the scene.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is it possible to tell the condition of the heart by X-rays? Is this a better test than an electrocardiogram?

Mr. I. A., New York Dear Mr. A.: X-rays and the electrocardiogram (the machine that registers the electrocardiogram or EKG) are only two of the many methods by which the heart and its function are determined.

Formerly, an X-ray of the heart showed only the size; enlargement could thus be seen and evaluated.

Now, there is a new X-ray technique by which the coronary arteries, the life-line that supplies blood to the heart muscle, can be studied. This is known as coronary arteriography and clearly shows the extent of coronary artery disease, if it is suspected. This method is used in selected cases, and brings to the physician a great deal of information, both for diagnosis and treatment.

The EKG, in addition to this specialized X-ray technique, coupled with special blood studies, give an excellent profile of the heart when normal or when threatened by illness.

I read that aspirin tablets can be responsible for bleeding. Why are so many millions sold if they are dangerous?

Miss J. H., Alabama Dear Miss H.: Aspirin, or acetylsalicylic acid, is a drug that has great value in the treatment of many medical conditions.

One of the side effects of prolonged use of large quanties of aspirin is a decrease in the clotting time of blood, and an increase in the bleeding time.

Both of these are measures by which bleeding tendencies are studied. It is for this reason that aspirin is not prescribed shortly before or after any type of operation.

Chewing gum that contains aspirin had, for a long time, been used following a tonsillectomy for relief of pain. This has been entirely discontinued to avoid post-operative bleeding.

Aspirin should never be used by patients who have had stomach ulcers, even those that have been shown to be completely healed.

People with any kind of blood disorder that shows a bleeding tendency must avoid taking aspirin.

When patients take large quantities of aspirin for arthritis under the direction of a doctor they need have no concern about the relationship between aspirin and a bleeding tendency.

Grinding of the teeth, or bruxism, can seriously affect the health of the teeth and the normal condition of the bite. There are now available splints and "night guards" for the teeth that prevent dental damage.

Your dentist should be consulted early if this condition exists.

Arguments started in bars account for more than half the murders committed annually in Dallas.

Chopstick Tour

A number of ifs remain to be ironed out, but about the same time Richard Nixon is being received in Peking next month another first of some magnitude could be occurring in China.

The French Line has announced a proposed bonus for passengers on the S.S. France when it makes its scheduled stop at Hong Kong—a two-day visit to Canton, China.

Final arrangements have not been completed and they may not materialize. But if they do, it will be the first wholesale invasion of tourists behind the bamboo curtain in at least five years.

For any Americans on board who chose to go, it would be the first entry for U.S. tourists in nearly a quarter century.

It is entirely up to Peking, of course, whether it wants to normalize relations with the rest of the world to this extent. Whichever way the decision goes will at least provide a hint as to the current political climate hovering over the Chinese mainland.

Not Time Nor Place

If a foreign visitor were imprudent enough to complain publicly about his homeland while here, chances are his remark would be unappreciated by government and misunderstood by many American. The same situation exists when Americans go abroad and for whatever reason picture their country in less than complimentary terms.

Free speech is a basic right of every American citizen, whether at home or abroad. But there are time and conditions when the proper exercise of that right requires some restraint. That is particularly true of persons of some renown who are a natural subject to news interest in their overseas travel.

Discouraging words about his government by a traveling member of Congress, for instance, easily are distorted in a foreign land by a press which does not practice responsible journalism and may be hostile to the United States.

Such instances have occurred and probably will again. No one is going to stop Americans from bad-mouthing their country while abroad. The indiscretion, however, reflect more on the individual than on the nation he represents only by citizenship.

I recall a cartoon of Joseph Stalin looking in a mirror after he had successfully banished Leon Trotsky and purged Zinoviev, Kamenev and the rest of the Old Bolsheviks. The caption was "Alone at last!" Mao and Chou must feel the same way. First, Mao rid himself of Liu Shao-chi, his civilian Chief of State. To do this he called upon Lin Biao, his chosen "successor" and head of the army. Lin set the young Red Guards of the Cultural Revolution in motion, and the result was the decimation of the civilian party apparatus. To this day, as Free China's Ambassador to the U.S., James C. H. Shen, has recently reminded Florida and Texas audiences, no "People's Congress" has been called to choose a successor to Liu Shao-chi. There is no important person with the stature to take his place.

Having used Lin Biao to engulf Liu and his civilian supporters, Mao then turned on Lin himself. Where Lin and his chief of staff, Huang Yung-sheng, are now, nobody in the West seems to know. (If Jack Anderson could find out, it would be a useful public service.) There was the mysterious crash of a plane supposedly carrying military VIP's over Outer Mongolia on a direct navigational course to Russia, and there was the virtually coincidental grounding of the Red Chinese Air Force. Maybe Lin Piao is dead, maybe not. But one thing Henry Kissinger surely knows is that some 70 senior generals have dropped out of sight in China. The nation is loosely held together by 13 regional commanders whose loyalty to Mao and Chou could be highly provisional.

On the Soviet analogy, Mao and Chou could be in the position occupied by Stalin after the purge of Marshal Tukachevsky and his staff in the Nineteen Thirties. Without any seasoned military leadership Stalin was compelled to face Adolf Hitler — or, more important, Generals von Leeb, von Rundstedt and von Bock — almost naked. If Hitler hadn't foolishly engaged in a two-front war fueled by the U.S., Stalin would have been ruined. It could be that the disappearance of Lin Piao and Chief of Staff Huang along with the 70 senior generals explains the total failure of the Red Chinese to lift a finger in behalf of their Pakistani "clients" in the Pakistani-Indian war.

Provided that Soviet Russia's Brezhnev stays his hand, Mao and Chou will be spared the type of military onslaught that almost toppled Stalin in the early days of World War II. However, there could be a sleeping "Russian party" inside Red China that would prefer some sort of accommodation with Moscow to an alliance, whether de jure or de facto, with Richard Nixon. If the plan that crashed over Outer Mongolia was in truth carrying Red Chinese generals seeking refuge and support in Siberia, how many like-minded officers have been left behind? The question may not bother the U.S. and Maoist conferees at Peking in February. But it could crop up in a virulent guise at some later date to ruin any Washington-Peking agreement. Maybe before November, 1972, maybe after.

The point is that Nixon and Kissinger are dealing with an unstable country. They may get away with it, but the chance of diplomatic catastrophe remains.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Implementation of the new foreign economic policy, of which currency realignment is the chief feature, led many people to believe that American trade disadvantages were largely at an end.

More likely only the beginning has been made. Inequities exist. The United States is still sharing its markets with nations which makes it difficult for the United States to sell in theirs.

This is the situation, of course, that provoked the Nixon administration into acting. And it was the loss of large segments of the domestic markets in textiles, steel and footwear that provided evidence.

Now comes the electronics industry with figures that will seem incredible to many. In that industry, claims the brand new Electronic Industry Committee For Fair International Trade, 121,000 jobs were lost in the 1965-1970 period because of foreign competition.

This is the extent to which the country shares its market with foreign manufacturers: televisions 37 per cent, phonographs 63, radios 92, tape recorders 96, desktop calculators 71.

"The U.S. trade deficit in consumer electronic products and components in 1970 alone," the committee states in a position paper, "exceeded $1 billion and could rise to more than $3.5 billion by 1976."

Those figures and the forecast provide devastating evidence, but of what? A failure of American management, a fall-off in worker productivity, a deterioration of the quality of domestic goods?

If you searched, it is likely that you could find evidence of all three defects. But certainly none of these can explain how powerful American manufacturers lost 96 per cent of their own market to foreigners.

The answer lies in unfair competition, claims the committee, formed by the heads of companies such as Zenith, Sylva, Magnavox, and Corning. And who is the chief offender? Japan, it answers.

"The principal source of the rising tide of imports of electronic products and components and resulting trade balance deficit, decline in employment and flight of capital investment is, of course, Japan."

This is the charge: "Japanese duties on major categories of U.S. electronic products, adjusted to give effect to the imposition of border taxes, remission of internal taxes and the use of similar trade barriers, average 23.3 per cent."

By contrast: "U.S. tariffs on Japanese consumer electronic products average only approximately 5 per cent. Moreover, Japan imposes various additional nontariff barriers to imports from the U.S."

The committee has named Robert Murphy, honorary chairman of Corning International, to head its efforts to gather finances, evidence and impact with Washington.

JANUARY 1927
45 YEARS AGO

A baby daughter was born New Year's Day to Mr. and Mrs. George C. Trimmer, Washington Twp.

A Swiss family named Waltermire, in 1816, started to emigrate to America with his wife and seven sons. Mrs. Waltermire's maiden name was Roof and her brother's small family started with them.

Enroute, the dilapidated old ship was blown off course, all provisions used up and nearly three-fourths of those on board died of the Asiatic cholera, including the Waltermire parents and the entire Roof family. The ship captain, responsible to find the boys homes, bound them out giving two the name of Waltermire and two the name of Roof. One was Joseph A. Roof who later became a Lutheran minister in Circleville — where he organized St. Paul's church in Madison Twp.

The January 1927 grand jury recommended that the interior of the county jail be thoroughly washed and painted and suggested that prisoners be given good magazines, if such could be secured by donations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wardell recalled their wedding day nearly 40 years earlier on Jan. 5, 1888. They were married at the home of the bride's parents on Seven Oaks Farm about five miles west of Circleville. They were members of two of the pioneer families of this county. In honor of the anniversary friends held a belling party for the couple at the Pickaway St. home.

Congoleum rugs were offered at "ridiculous prices" at Crist's Department Store during the January clearance sale. A 9 x 12 rug cost $9.85.

Circleville took their ancient rival Chillicothe in a basketball game, 23-9. Vlerbome's shooting and passwork advanced the CHS squad with assistance from R. F. Pickens and L. G. Snider and R. G. Maloney. Vlerbome garnered 14 points alone.

Homemade marmalade cost 25 cents at the Henn Bros. meat market and grocery. They also featured homemade mincemeat for the same price.

Jerald Marion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Marion, was appointed page in the Ohio House of Representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch went to Magnetic Springs, Ohio, where he took treatment for rheumatism.

Wash Neuner, janitor of the First National Bank, taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion at Betz's Restaurant, was reported in improved condition and would recover.

NEW YORK (AP) — A camera sometimes can tell a story, create an impression and build a mood more effectively than any other theatrical medium. One of those occasions was Thursday night when the public broadcasting stations showed an unusual portrait of Lorraine Hansberry, the talented and perceptive playwright who died at age 34.

Robert Nemiroff's memoir of his late wife, called "To Be Young, Gifted and Black," was presented with great success as an off-Broadway production about three years ago. It was more powerful and effective as a television production because the performers were not limited to a stage background.

An artful interweaving of Miss Hansberry's writing—letters, scenes from plays—and remembered conversations were put together. The result was a moving and sometimes infuriating picture of what it is like to be a black maturing in a white-dominated society.

The structure of the program was sometimes a bit confusing. The play started as if it were an early rehearsal of a play with the actors around a table reading and referring to their scripts. A splendid, sympathetic cast moved off in a number of directions to show Lorraine Hansberry's career, her emotions and reactions, but it all led to her premature death—of cancer in 1965.

The part of the playwright was taken from time to time by all members of the cast, men and women, blacks and whites. Ruby Dee played her most of the time and gave the character a sense of pride in being black. The cast also included Claudia McNeil, Barbara Barrie, Lauren Jones, Al Freeman Jr., and Al Schneider.

Occasionally the transitions were abrupt and it was hard to follow the shift from excerpts from letters to scenes from plays—"A Raisin in the Sun" was her greatest success. Frequently, too, the background music was so loud that it dominated instead of underscored the words.

Over-all however, it was a fascinating play and, while painful, was a rare television treat.

The transition from such drama to "The Dean Martin Show" was too sharp to be considered. "Owen Marshall: Counselor-at-Law" seemed a better bet for a night cap. But even this—sleek, professional and commercial—seemed flat after the Hansberry piece.

Fine Drivers

With No License

Two young drivers appeared recently in a juvenile court on charges of driving without a license.

Seventeen-year-old Terry Lambert, Route 1, Orient, and Donald Ackley, Frankfort, were each ordered to pay $10 of an original $50 fine. Judge Guy Cline also suspended the youth's driving privileges for six months.

A 15-year-old Orient boy, facing truancy charges, entered a plea of guilty and was placed on probation for four years, in addition to serving six days in detention.

Thomas Lynch, Morris Trailer Court, was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of two girls and given probation for three years with the juvenile court. All but six days of his sentence to jail was suspended. Placed in the temporary care of the Children's Service was a Circleville area girl, 14. The court ruled her mother and stepfather had failed to provide a proper home or enroll her in school.

Five cases were terminated and probation ended because the youths had reached the age of 18 and were self-supporting, married or in the military service.

Ashbrook Plans Wider Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Concerned that his presidential candidacy has not had a conservative influence on President Nixon, Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, says he is considering expanding his campaign to four or five more primaries.

Ashbrook, who is challenging Nixon in the New Hampshire and Florida primaries, said the President's State of the Union address Thursday widened the split between him and conservatives.

"It's just more of the same right down the line," he said, "a depressing blend of liberal utopianism at home and continued apathy concerning our deteriorating national security."

"The President is committed to a course of action that completely repudiates the Republican platform of 1968," he told newsmen.

Ashbrook, who said when he entered the presidential campaign three weeks ago that his goal was to move Nixon to the right rather than replace him in the White House, saw no indication in the speech that he is having any success so far.

He had announced plans only to run in New Hampshire and Florida, but said he now is eyeing four or five more states which he might enter if he fares well in the first two.

Charge Youth In Slaying Of Stepfather

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 16-year-old Fairfield, Ohio, youth was in custody today charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of his stepfather during a robbery attempt at their home.

Police charged that Kenneth Graves "purposely, while attempting to perpetrate a robbery, shot and killed" Joseph Russell Harkness, 45, in their Fairfield home.

A second youth, Ted Rogers, 15, of Hamilton, Ohio, was charged with aiding and abetting Graves in an attempted armed robbery. Both were in the Butler County Juvenile Detention Center.

The pair were arrested on the bank of the Great Miami River in Joyce Park during a manhunt by Fairfield, Hamilton and Butler county officers.

Both made statements following their capture, police said. Police said Graves telephoned his stepfather at work and asked him to come home immediately.

Harkness was shot once in the abdomen at the house and once more in the elbow as he fled the house seeking assistance at a neighbor's home.

Gilligan And King On Collision Course?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. John Gilligan and the Ohio AFL-CIO's Frank King continued on a collision course this week.

Gilligan, despite the advice and arguments of AFL-CIO President King, announced his support for Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, for the Democratic presidential nomination.

King lined up with Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., the former vice president, as his choice. Both were named delegate candidates for their man. Gilligan has obviously committed his troops to the Muskie camp. They showed up en masse at Muskie's delegate caucus.

King, on the other hand, cannot commit all the different groups under the AFL-CIO umbrella to Humphrey, but his chief lieutenants are obviously on his side.

King became irked at the Humphrey delegate caucus because his daughter, Frances Dush of Columbus, was not named a Humphrey delegate.

Sources said Mrs. Dush, a 22-year-old Columbus schoolteacher, polled only 30 votes from the some 300 who attended the delegate selection meeting.

King, however, brought some pressure on the Humphrey forces. The list of delegates revealed two days later listed Mrs. Dush as an alternate.

"It will make for an interesting primary," commented one legislator. "It'll make for a lot of new faces around here," added another.

At last count, there were six GOP committee chairman who may not seek re-election to their present seats this year. Others are just giving up.

"You have to be wealthy — or poor — to be in the legislature," said Rep. Dale Schmidt, R-66 Cincinnati. "Those of us making an average living just can't afford the time and expense."

Schmidt, a lawyer, has called it quits. He said he can't maintain his legal practice and spend another 12 months in Columbus.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Cloudy skies and temperatures from the mid 20s to upper 30s greeted Ohioans this morning.

A high pressure ridge pushing eastward from the upper Mississippi Valley was expected to clear skies late today.

Temperatures will remain cool today and early tonight with a chance of a few snow flurries in northeastern counties along Lake Erie.

Rapid warming is forecast Saturday as the high moves rapidly off the New England coast, bringing warm, southerly air back into Ohio. Temperatures are forecast in the 40s and 50s under mostly cloudy skies. There's a chance of showers.

The weather will remain wet through the weekend and into early next week with unseasonably mild temperatures, turning cooler Tuesday.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Partly cloudy tonight. Lows in the 20s north and 30s south. Saturday cloudy and warmer with a chance of rain. Highs from the mid 40s to the mid 50s.

NORTHWEST INLAND, WEST LAKE SHORE — Mostly clear tonight. Lows in the low 20s. Saturday cloudy and warmer with a chance of showers. Highs in the mid to upper 40s.

EAST LAKE SHORE, NORTHEAST INLAND — Partly cloudy tonight. Lows in the mid 20s. Saturday cloudy and warmer with a chance of rain. Highs in the upper 40s and low 50s.

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, EAST CENTRAL, SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST — Partly cloudy tonight. Lows in the low to mid 30s. Cloudy and warmer with a chance of showers Saturday. Highs in the low to mid 50s.

The shuffling for position to run for reelection has begun among Republicans thrown into the same districts under the Democratic reapportionment plan.

Forces loyal to Sen. Robin Turner, R-14 Marion, are trying to get Sen. Paul Gillmor, R-12 Tiffin, to run for the Senate seat vacated by Sen. Tennyson Guyer, R-2 Findlay.

Gillmor owns a house at Port Clinton and once practiced law in that area. If he remains in Tiffin, he will have to fight Turner.

Guyer, meanwhile, has announced for the Fourth District congressional seat. Other forces are at work trying to get Senate Majority Leader Thodore Gray, R-3 Piqua, and Rep. Walter White, R-6 Lima, to offer competition.

House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg, has said Rep. Howard Knight, R-16 Rising Sun, may also run for the Senate seat Guyer is giving up.

If he doesn't, then Knight would be forced to run against Kurfess if he wanted to get back in the House.

Arctic Air Nips Edges Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arctic cold settled over the North Central states from the Great Plains to the Great Lakes today and dropped temperatures well below zero along the Canadian border.

The frigid air mass scattered snow from the Dakotas to the Appalachians.

Dense fog combined with drizzle or freezing drizzle caused hazardous driving conditions in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Fresh snow coated New England while strong winds, gusting up to gale force, slapped heavy rain across the Pacific Northwest.

Rain and thunderstorms covered the Southeast from the mid Atlantic states to Texas.

Fair weather prevailed in the far Southwest and in Florida.

Pickaway Grange

SALT CREEK VALLEY

Twenty members and two guests, attended the Saltcreek Valley Grange "Carry In" dinner Tuesday evening at Saltcreek School.

Worthy Master Francis Fraunfelder conducted an open meeting. The members voted to give donations to the National and State Youth Organizations and to Berger Hospital for a Heart Monitor.

Lecturer Paul Dunkle announced that the lecturers contest will be held at the 4-H and Grange building 2 p.m. Sunday. Donna Beougher gave a report on a County Officers meeting where plans were made for a centennial covered dish dinner to be held on Feb. 26. Thank you notes were read from the Pickaway County Youth for help at their youth conference, and from Virgil Timmons for cards and gifts while in the hospital.

Worthy Master was in charge of the program where several games and contests were enjoyed by all. Gladys Hedges and Hoyt Timmons proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that you can taste different flavors without the aid of sight or smell. The program closed by a poem "What Is Success" by the Worthy Master. The next meeting will be held Feb. 1. For the program everyone is to bring a musical song, poem or game for an Evening of Melody.

Etha Mae Wolford Named First Lady Of Circleville

Etha Mae Wolford was named "First Lady Of The Year" in Circleville by Xi Eta Epsilon Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority during a reception Tuesday evening. Presentation of the framed certificate of recognition was made by Emma Curlett, president.

Mrs. Curlett had previously requested that Mrs. Wolford be the guest speaker for a regular meeting of the sorority but upon her arrival she was given a corsage of red rosebuds and introduced to members. Mrs. Wolford was then told that the talk she was to give was a ruse to have her come to the parlor of Trinity Lutheran Church where her family was waiting in another room. Her husband Roloff Wolford, her three sons, Bob, Don, and Jerry, and their wives all entered and were introduced.

After presentation of the certificate Mrs. Curlett read a list of some of the many things Mrs. Wolford has done to benefit the community and all of Pickaway County. Included was the fact that Mrs. Wolford has been executive secretary of the Pickaway County Red Cross Chapter for the past 15 years and has worked innumerable extra hours in helping people in trouble. She has been a Sunday School teacher, past president and held all offices in the WSCS, chairman of her circle, member of the social concerns committee of Community United Methodist Church and served as its president.

She is a past officer of the Chillicothe District Church Board, past secretary of District Children's Division, attended Methodist Youth Fellowship camp sessions while her boys were young. In the summer when the church has drive-in services she transports rest home residents whom might not otherwise be able to attend. She was instrumental in originating a scholarship fund in the WSCS and also helped organize the Council of Church Women which led to the Clothing Center.

certificate to Mrs. Roloff Wolford from Xi Eta Epsilon Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. Wolford has been active in the Business and Professional Women's Club and is a past president, is past president of Jackson Twp. PTA, and a member and current secretary of the Comprehensive Health Board. Etha Mae is a member of Berger Hospital Guild 20 and held all of its offices, has worked at all levels in most Pickaway County community charity drives. She was instrumental in assisting in origin of PICCA and has served on its board. This organization led to the opening of Day Care Centers.

C. Philip Pfeiffer, chairman of the board of the local Red Cross chapter, spoke briefly of Mrs. Wolford praising her work.

Refreshments of tea sandwiches, minis, cookies, nuts and coffee were served from a table covered with a yellow cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white mums. Mrs. Curlett presided at the silver coffee service.

Serving on the investigating committee were Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Jerry Walters, in charge of refreshments were Mrs. Norma Feldman and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson. Hostess for the evening was the president, Mrs. Charles Curlett.

Other members attending the occasion were: Mrs. Edward Bohenko, Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. Jack Frantz, Mrs. Charles Jolliffe, Mrs. John Kelchner, Mrs. Howard Snook, Mrs. Barton Walters and Mrs. Joe Veg.

The next meeting will be Feb. 8th in the church basement. Valentine cookie plates will be prepared to give to special people, a project that the women have been doing for several years.

Constitution Commission Revamped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three new legislative and four public members of the Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission were sworn in during a reorganizational meeting Thursday.

They replaced members who have either resigned or have not been active.

The new legislative members are Sen. Paul Gillmor, R-12 Tiffin, Rep. Alan Norris, R-59 Westerville and Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-79 Toledo.

New public members are Lola Hessler of Cincinnati, D. Bruce Mansfield of Akron, James Shocknessy of Columbus and John W. E. Bowen of Columbus.

The year-old commission is studying Ohio's 121-year-old constitution to determine how it can be updated.

It has until July 1, 1979, to complete its work, but can phase out of existence before then if it feels its job has been done.

A proposal will be on the ballot in November asking voters if a constitutional convention should be held. By law, the proposal goes on the ballot every 20 years, but has been rejected each time since 1912.

If one should be approved, the revision commission would work in an advisory capacity to the convention. Presently it is charged with making recommendations to the legislature.

The University of Northern Colorado has 30 doctoral programs.

Historical Society Elects Officers, Picks Committee

Nelle Oesterle, vice president; Ralph Woolever, president; Patricia Southward, secretary and Mark Armstrong, treasurer.

Pickaway County Historical Society held its annual carry-in dinner and election of officers Thursday night in the dining room of Community United Methodist Church.

Re-elected for the coming year were: Ralph Woolever, president; Nelle Oesterle, vice president; Mark Armstrong, treasurer; Chestora Peters, corresponding secretary and Patricia Southward, secretary.

Trustees whose terms will end in 1975 are: Paul Johnson, Rex Haacker, Dwight Steele and Mrs. Ray Davis.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. H. Miller Dunkle, special activities; Mrs. O. E. Barr; museum, Dhel Renick; acquisitions, Norman McKnight.

Miss Renick, reporting for Mr. McKnight listed several items donated to the museum during the past year. Included were a hoop skirt form, Haviland china, top hat, pliers to remove and insert leadlights on cars, child's slippers, satin dancing shoes, 1867 Almanac, child's rosewood rocking chair, books, scrapbook, two wedding gowns, one worn in 1905 and the other in 1909, and a razor carried by a soldier in the Civil War.

Dr. Lloyd Sprouse announced that a college friend of his made a contribution of $1,000 to the museum but wished to remain anonymous.

A full report of the financial status by Mrs. Barr revealed the society is now on the black side of the ledger.

Mrs. Barr said that several family memberships were given by individuals during the past year and membership now numbered over 500.

Plans were discussed for an open house and dedication of the Pontious room to be held June 28th. The committee is composed of: Rex Haacker, chairman; James Shea, Harold Clifton, Virgil Cress, William Radcliff, Doyle Painter, C. O. Bennett, Don Forquer, Mrs. Walter Heine, Mrs. David Craven, Mrs. Marion Sines and Mrs. Forrest Croman.

The dining tables, decorated by Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, held lighted green tapers in crystal candle-holders surrounded with greenery. The president's table was centered with a large decorated candleholder with a large green candle and greenery.

As members and guests entered the room they viewed a table holding many old books of the early history of Pickaway County, a brass tea kettle, coffee grinders, earthenware jugs and a butter press.

Ohio Lagging In Fine Arts?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Public support of the arts in Ohio does not compare favorably with the efforts being made in other states across the country, the assistant director of the Ohio Arts Council said today.

John B. Briley called Ohio's involvement in the fine arts symptomatic of "a general feeling in the U.S. as a whole against public support of the arts."

Jailed Draft Evaders Draw Slight Praise

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Julie Eisenhower says she has more respect for the draft evaders who went to jail than those who fled the country.

The President's younger daughter told newsmen Tuesday that the evaders who went to jail "took their punishment."

Management Program Stated, Nye Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Natural Resources Director William Nye said his department is creating a management program aimed at preventing commercial and industrial development on flood plains.

In connection with this, he said, steps will be taken to make sure no state facilities are constructed on flood plains.

Sea Lions Make Medical History

By BILL STOCKTON

AP Science Writer

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — A trio of sea lions will swim its way into medical history in the waters off this sun-drenched resort island.

Diving long and deep, the sea lions will carry electronic snipers that ferret out secrets of their adaptation to the underwater world.

The secrets will be analyzed by University of Southern California physiologists who wonder how man might cope better with the stresses of an alien environment.

The scientists say the sea lions will make a significant contribution because they stand at an evolutionary crossroads. They once were exclusively land animals, but after millions of years of evolution they are terrestrial animals who spend most of their time in water.

"We want to look at the way the sea lion's cardiovascular regulatory mechanism has changed to meet the challenge of evolution from land to sea," explained Dr. Chris Stevens.

That's where Samantha, Flod and Bruthie come in. Samantha, a sleek, black beauty of four years, is the star at present, reigning over a wire mesh enclosed raft anchored in Big Fisherman's Cove here. Elwood and Bruthie await their debut in pens on the nearby shore.

Samantha has blood pressure sensors implanted in her chest and abdomen. During experiments she swims in the sea wearing a harness with a box. The box is filled with electronic devices which connect to the sensors and monitor changes in the cardiovascular system.

When a diver jumps into the water, sometimes deadly stresses develop.

The heartbeat slows and becomes irregular. The heart can become dangerously gorged with blood. Gases in the air in the lungs dissolve in the blood but can turn to bubbles if the diver ascends too rapidly, causing the crippling and sometimes fatal bends.

But a sea lion can hold its breath, dive to 750 feet, swim around several minutes and then zip back to the surface, all effortlessly. To do this, he slows his heartbeat to as much as one-tenth of normal. Blood vessels in the "exercising muscles" and near the skin pinch off. The lungs collapse, preventing undesirable gas exchange with the blood.

The scientists want to know how the sea lion makes such changes.

"We're a long way from definitive answers," Stevens said. "But we've found these little animals have a great deal to tell us and we're just beginning to scratch the surface."

Burglars Claim Policemen Helped Them With Thefts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two convicted burglars have told the Pennsylvania Crime Commission of their part in the operation of a now defunct burglary ring which they claim often had the help of local law enforcement officers.

The two, testifying under immunity Wednesday, were James Wardrop, 38, and William Snyder, both now serving prison terms for burglary.

They described the ring, which operated in Allegheny, Beaver, Lawrence, Mercer and Blair counties in 1968 and said the take from the burglaries and robberies amounted to $500,000.

Wardrop said they received help from local policemen in about half of the burglaries. He did not identify the officers.

"We often got certain information from local policemen that would otherwise be unobtainable, such as police patrol schedules and radio frequencies," Wardrop said.

"One police chief of a Pennsylvania township set up several scores (thefts) and in one case we worked directly with him."

Wardrop, who kept his face partly shielded to avoid being photographed, admitted to taking part in 27 burglaries and robberies for which he said he got about $30,000 in cash and fenced merchandise.

"We got 100 per cent of the value of any money," he said, "and about half the value of the stolen property. The 'set up' man got 10 per cent, and if he was unusually reliable and accurate, he got maybe 15 per cent."

Each man in the ring, which numbered as many as 30 persons, had his own specialty, said Wardrop: tipsters, burglar alarm experts, safe crackers and fences.

SECURITIES LAW

Revision Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gerald E. Wedren, state securities commissioner, said Thursday a draft for complete revision of the state's securities laws may be completed in time for presentation to the Legislature in April or May.

"The draft is now 65 to 75 per cent complete," said Wedren. A 12-man Securities Division Advisory Board appointed by Gov. John J. Gilligan is drawing the revision.

The proposed laws are more restrictive and "closer to the federal laws," Wedren said. They would require investment advisers to be registered or licensed with the Division of Securities. Currently there is no such requirement and "this is an area of abuse," he said.

Ashbrook Worried About Opposition

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican U.S. Rep. John Ashbrook of Johnstown who is challenging President Nixon in the New Hampshire GOP primary, faces growing opposition in his 17th congressional district.

William L. White, a Mount Vernon businessman who has been an unsuccessful candidate for both governor and U.S. Senator in the past, says he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination in Ashbrook's district.

Ohio Lagging In Fine Arts?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Public support of the arts in Ohio does not compare favorably with the efforts being made in other states across the country, the assistant director of the Ohio Arts Council said today.

John B. Briley called Ohio's involvement in the fine arts symptomatic of "a general feeling in the U.S. as a whole against public support of the arts."

Briley admitted, "we don't stack up too well with other states."

Jailed Draft Evaders Draw Slight Praise

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Julie Eisenhower says she has more respect for the draft evaders who went to jail than those who fled the country.

The President's younger daughter told newsmen Tuesday that the evaders who went to jail "took their punishment."

Management Program Slated, Nye Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Natural Resources Director William Nye said his department is creating a management program aimed at preventing commercial and industrial development on flood plains.

In connection with this, he said, steps will be taken to make sure no state facilities are constructed on flood plains.

TINKER TOY CHURCH

And it has a silver bell on the steeple and a cross on top. No one suggested to Bobby that he use his birthday toy this way. He did it himself.

He could have made a ferris wheel, or a barn, or a wagon. But, as it happens, he made a church. Maybe it is because, since he was a tot, the Church has been so important in his life.

To Bobby the Church represents a warmth and love that made him want to "build one of his own."

Does your child feel that way?

TINKER TOY CHURCH

And it has a silver bell on the steeple and a cross on top. No one suggested to Bobby that he use his birthday toy this way. He did it himself.

He could have made a ferris wheel, or a barn, or a wagon. But, as it happens, he made a church. Maybe it is because, since he was a tot, the Church has been so important in his life.

To Bobby the Church represents a warmth and love that made him want to "build one of his own."

Does your child feel that way?

Impetus For Church Reunion Grows Again

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A modern wave of anti-institutionalism has caused a "failure of nerve" in many church officials about the guest for church reunion, an expert says. But he adds that the goal already is emerging and its attainment seems certain.

"It's not just a pipe dream," says the Rev. Dr. Paul A. Crow Jr., of Princeton, N.J., executive secretary of the Consultation on Church Union-COCU. "There's more momentum for it now than there ever has been."

But much of the impetus, he adds, is now coming from the local scene rather than from denominational centers.

"It's a new kind of pressure that is coming from the grass roots," he says, referring to the growth of cross-denominational coalitions forming among different congregations in many communities."

Interviewed prior to the current observance of the annual week of prayer for Christianity unity sponsored by Protestant, Orthodox and Roman Catholic bodies, Dr. Crow said the movement has entered a more realistic stage.

"It has moved past the old-style conciliarism of amiability when ministers got together and now is involving broader participation of the laity in the common functional arena," he said.

Dr. Crow, 39, an Alabama-born church historian, left a seminary teaching post at Lexington, Ky., four years ago to administer the project seeking to unite nine American Protestant denominations totaling about 25 million people.

It is only one of about 50 different merger negotiations going on between Protestant denominations in many parts of the world, some of them nearing consummation.

Besides these, theological talks also are continuing between Roman Catholicism and the major Protestant and Orthodox traditions, with a growing list of agreements of various aspects of doctrine and practice.

Dr. Crow, who spends about half his time on the road meeting with various church groups to explain the basis and pattern for the proposed united church said the upsurge of local ecumenical clusters, coalitions, consortiums and alliances of various kinds, dealing with isues of race, drugs, poverty, peace and other matters, has produced a "new local ecumenism."

"Congregations are relating to each other locally, on their own terms and out of their own needs and initiatives," he said. "They're saying in effect that denominational identification is a thing of the past."

He said the phenomenon has not been systematically surveyed, but recent spot checks show at least 400 such cross-denominational arrangements in as many communities.

The denominations involved are the Episcopal, United Presbyterian, United Methodist, Presbyterian U.S. (Southern), Christian (Disciples), African Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal Zion and Christian Methodist Episcopal churches and the United Church of Christ.

Sen. Javits Prefers Rockefeller As Veep

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits says he would prefer Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as a running mate for President Nixon in November's presidential election.

"My views as to Vice President Agnew are well known," the New York Republican told newsmen Wednesday. "I would certainly prefer Rockefeller as vice president."

As for the presidency, Javits said, "I'm a Republican and I'm for Nixon."

Dear Abby: Son Is Turning Home Into Motel

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our son (age 19) lives at home and goes to a local college. Dick is a good boy and well liked. He's the youngest of six children and we live in a large home with five bedrooms.

Nearly every night we have one or more of Dick's buddies staying here. Some just ring the bell, whether Dick is home or not, and we have welcomed them.

But how about couples? (They always say they're married.)

We love our son and want his friends to be welcome here, but we don't want our home turned into a motel substitute, and we certainly don't want unmarried kids sleeping together on our premises.

What do you think?

DICK'S FOLKS: Married couples (unless they are visiting from out of town) shouldn't have to bed down at your place. I also agree that you shouldn't provide sleeping quarters for couples whose marital status is in question.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning my wedding and my mother is giving me a hard time. She doesn't like the wording on my wedding invitation because her name is not on it, but my father's is.

Democrats Plan To Answer Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats plan to answer President Nixon's State of the Union speech with a live televised phone-in program Friday featuring five House members and four senators.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., will serve as anchorman on the panel.

The two top House Democrats, Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma and Majority Leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana, will sum up at the end of the hour-long live program. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who gave the Democratic response in 1971, won't appear this year.

Cleveland Barbers Roll Back Prices

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland barbers, who raised haircut prices from $3 to $3.50 Dec. 6, will roll them back to $3.25 today because of an Internal Revenue Service investigation.

Michael Nicoletti, secretary treasurer of Local 1, Barbers Employers Guild, and Charles Moscarino, secretary treasurer of Barbers Local 129, said after meeting with IRS officials Wednesday that prices for all barbering services would be rolled back 25 cents.

My parents are divorced and I am living with my father. In a book of etiquette it says that when the parents of the bride are divorced, the wedding invitation is issued by the parent with whom the bride lives.

I have shown this to my mother but she insists that I am not LIVING with my father. My father owns apartments and I have an apartment in his building, but he doesn't charge me rent, gas or electricity, so I am living off him, right? So isn't that the same as living with him?

WEDDING WOES: DEAR WOES: No. In the case of divorced parents, it's not OFF whom the bride lives, but WITH whom. And since you don't live with either parent, it would be less awkward to use BOTH their names on the wedding invitation, or neither.

DEAR ABBY: My son and his wife just had a darling baby boy, and when I drive by their place, I get a longing to see the baby, so I stop in for a few minutes when I know the baby will be awake.

Well, one day my daughter in law said, "I wish you would call before you come."

The next time I called, she said, "I was just going out the door when you called so don't come over now."

And I said, "I just wanted to leave the baby's suit I finished knitting," so she said "Okay, come over."

Abby, when I got there ten minutes later she wasn't even dressed, and the baby was still in his nightie, so she couldn't have been going out the door when I called. I was heart sick.

About a week later I stopped by without phoning first and she greeted me with, "Didn't I ask you to call first? Next time I won't let you in!"

What should I do?

HEARTSICK: DEAR HEARTSICK: Make it a practice to always telephone before you drop in. Your daughter in law is obviously a very in hospitable girl. And a most unfeeling one, to boot. But since she is so insistent that you call first, abide by her wishes.

DEAR ABBY: "Three Time Loser" said, "I gave him the best years of my life."

Well, if they were the best years of HER life, surely HE must have had something to do with making them so.

After being married 25 years, my husband left me. Although I am unhappy without him, I'm thankful that HE gave me the best years of MY life. I only wish I could have given him the best years of HIS life.

And little Pollyanna-ish, but I am telling it like it is. Thanks for listening.

Impetus For Church Reunion Grows Again

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A modern wave of anti-institutionalism has caused a "failure of nerve" in many church officials about the guest for church reunion, an expert says. But he adds that the goal already is emerging and its attainment seems certain.

"It's not just a pipe dream," says the Rev. Dr. Paul A. Crow Jr., of Princeton, N.J., executive secretary of the Consultation on Church Union—COCU. "There's more momentum for it now than there ever has been."

But much of the impetus, he adds, is now coming from the local scene rather than from denominational centers.

"It's a new kind of pressure that is coming from the grass roots," he says, referring to the growth of cross-denominational coalitions forming among different congregations in many communities."

Interviewed prior to the current observance of the annual week of prayer for Christianity unity sponsored by Protestant, Orthodox and Roman Catholic bodies, Dr. Crow said the movement has entered a more realistic stage.

"It has moved past the old-style conciliarism of amiability when ministers got together and now is involving broader participation of the laity in the common functional arena," he said.

Dr. Crow, 39, an Alabama-born church historian, left a seminary teaching post at Lexington, Ky., four years ago to administer the project seeking to unite nine American Protestant denominations totaling about 25 million people.

It is only one of about 50 different merger negotiations going on between Protestant denominations in many parts of the world, some of them nearing consummation.

Besides these, theological talks also are continuing between Roman Catholicism and the major Protestant and Orthodox traditions, with a growing list of agreements of various aspects of doctrine and practice.

Dr. Crow, who spends about half his time on the road meeting with various church groups to explain the basis and pattern for the proposed united church said the upsurge of local ecumenical clusters, coalitions, consortiums and alliances of various kinds, dealing with isues of race, drugs, poverty, peace and other matters, has produced a "new local ecumenism."

"Congregations are relating to each other locally, on their own terms and out of their own needs and initiatives," he said. "They're saying in effect that denominational identification is a thing of the past."

Webb Has Good Record In Wrestling

Students Picked For In The Know

Employ New Teacher Here

DAVE WEBB

By JEFF HARR

Dave Webb has been selected as Circleville's matman of the week. Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Webb of 109 Dunmore Road. Dave has two brothers, Mike, age 19 and Sam, age 13.

Dave is a seventeen-year-old junior who wrestles in the 132 pound class. He wrestled in the same class last year and posted a 25-1-1 record, his only loss coming in the state tournament. Last year Dave also won two tournaments and was sectional and district wrestling champ as well as winning his weight class in the league.

Among Dave's other accomplishments are two letters in football, selection to the all-SCOL defensive football team, and a letter on the league champion track team.

Dave is also very active in school as he is enrolled in the college preparatory course. He has been voted onto the student council, selected as Junior Class president, and holds an office in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

After high school Dave plans to go to college and undoubtedly he will get some help athletically. He has two areas of study in mind — ministry and law.

When Dave graduates he will have earned nine letters and several all-league awards. This all comes from hard work and dedication, but even Dave finds time for hobbies and likes which are music, athletics, ice water, and Kathy.

Orient State History Told To Classes

By KAREN LITTEN

"There are a number of so called institutions of mercy throughout Ohio and Orient State Institute is the largest. Its great purpose is rehabilitation, that is, to prepare the individual to learn and adjust to community programs... and communities must be educated to accept this." Those are the words of Rev. Raymon Kronkright from Orient, who spoke to all psychology classes at the high school last week.

Orient State Institute had its beginning in 1889 when it started as a part of the Columbus State Institute. Orient has grown steadily and now has 900 staff members serving its residents.

Rev. Kronkright spoke of the Institute's many rehabilitation programs. The home economics program trains some residents to cook and sew things for themselves and each other.

A Boy Scout Program is also at Orient. There the boys are left to make decisions for themselves and are not told what to do. They are left to enjoy the little freedom they might have.

Orient strives to "plant something in the person to give him something to hang on to and to influence his life... to make them want to live up to certain standards and to bring out the best in them," stated Rev. Kronkright.

Orient is financed by tax money, federal aid and social security. Since not all the residents at Orient are able to pay for their keep and education, these other financial means must be used.

Rev. Kronkright pointed out that the people of Pickaway County and any other county have obligations to meet because the people in and from Orient and from any other Institute like it, need understanding citizens to receive them when they go out into the communities.

The University of Northern Colorado has 59 undergraduate programs.

What is a sobriquet? What is a coquette? What does a lexicographer do? These are only three of the questions asked to this year's In-The-Know team as they prepare for their first meet against Hilliard.

Try-outs for the team began just after Pumpkin Show and continued for four to six weeks. During these few weeks a record was kept on each person that tried out as to the total times they attempted answering the questions and the total times they were correct. Questions were categorized into such classes as: music, art, mathematics, general knowledge, history, government, geography, science, literature, religion, vocabulary or miscellaneous. The quickness with which students responded to the questions was also a very important factor.

The final selection was made only a few days before the Thanksgiving vacation, and members have been working diligently ever since.

Comprising this year's varsity team is senior Mark Plescia. Mark resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plescia at 240 Edwards Road. He has two brothers and one sister.

When asked how he felt the general morale of the team was, he replied, "I think it is very high and everyone is hoping to win."

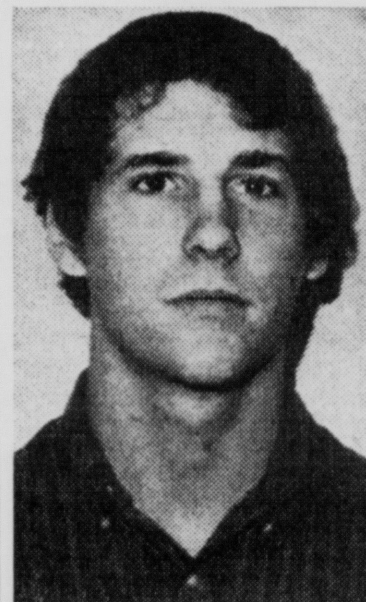

After graduation Mark plans to go on to college.

Andy Hoffman is another senior on the team. Andy resides at Route 2 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hoffman Jr. and his sister and brother.

He feels that the team will win because "The team was picked well in advance, and we've been practicing very hard since November."

Andy has been accepted at Purdue University, and he plans to major in political science.

Junior member of the group is Mike Cairns. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cairns, and one sister at 583 Hickory Place. Mike also feels

MIKE HAMRICK

Senior Plays Tiger Center

By DON VALENTINE

Senior Mike Hamrick is this week's featured basketball player. He resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hamrick, and two sisters at 420 Glenmont Court.

Despite being only six feet tall, Mike plays center for the Tigers and does a good job of keeping the opponent's big man off the boards. This year he has been used both as a starter and as a sixth man.

Besides basketball, Mike also played football and plans to go out for golf. As a linebacker on the football team, he was named to the all SCOL first team, the all-central district first team, and earned honorable mention all-Ohio.

After graduation Mike plans to attend either Harvard or Ohio State and major in business.

DENNIS WOOD

By KENT WOLFE

This week's DECA student is Dennis Wood who resides at 73 Bolens Ave. with his father, Mr. Wilson Wood, and his sister, Mindy.

"Woody" works as a parts salesman at Gordon Auto Parts and usually gets in about thirty-four hours a week. He feels that this job has helped to prepare him for a future vocation as a parts salesman which he plans to be in the future.

He is in constant contact with people and enjoys it very much because "each person is different and is a new challenge." He also enjoys helping customers find the particular item which will best suit their needs.

Dennis feels that through the salesmanship, good grooming, good management, and other techniques he has learned in class he will be well prepared for future vocation.

His likes include a certain girl and all cars and the parts needed to keep them in good running order. One of his main dislikes are people that think they are too good to speak to others.

After graduation Dennis plans to work with his father in an auto parts store.

Tigers To Meet Undefeated MT

By KENT WOLFE

Circleville will be very busy this weekend as they host the Miami Trace Panthers and travel to meet the Westfall Mustangs.

The Panthers, who are still undefeated in the league, have a quick team that is led by the Jones brothers. Circleville lost their first league game to Trace earlier in the season, and can be counted on to get their revenge.

The Mustangs just have not been able to find that winning combination this season, but have a team with a lot of talent. The Tigers beat them soundly earlier this year, and will do it again Saturday night.

In other action around the county, Westfall will lose another one to Logan Elm and Teays Valley will take West Jefferson in what could be a close ball game.

MRS. LAIRD HICKS

Nicholas 4th Grade

By DONNA A. IMLER

New to the Circleville school system by one month is Mrs. Laird Hicks, an elementary teacher with seven and one-half years experience.

Mrs. Hicks is a third grade teacher at Nicholas Drive School. She resides at 125 Marshall Road with her husband and four children.

Mrs. Hicks moved here from Indiana, Pa. There she taught first grade. "Nicholas Drive is much smaller than the school in Pennsylvania. Children there changed classes and had a variety of teachers compared to the one teacher elementary system here." She feels that teaching from 50 to 75 children took much more preparation time on the part of the teacher.

She graduated from Indiana State College in Pennsylvania. Her major was in elementary education and she has an endorsement in library science.

Inspired by a first grade teacher and her like of children Mrs. Hicks decided on teaching as a career.

Her hobbies include knitting, sewing, crocheting, and cooking. Mrs. Hicks would like to get her masters in library science sometime in the future.

Miami Trace Will Host College Nite

By DON VALENTINE and CRAIG ALLISON

A special College Night will be held Wednesday, Jan. 26, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Miami Trace High School. This event is for all the schools in the SCOL, and all students and parents are invited to attend.

There will be as many as seventy-five schools represented, both four-year schools and two-year technical schools. The program will be divided into five sessions. The first twenty minute session will be in the auditorium for everyone to get acquainted with the schools attending. Then, there will be three twenty-minute sessions so that students can visit a representative from the college of their choice. The final session will be a question and answer period. Following this, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Circleville received its invitation to this program in person. Two seniors, Susan Dundon and Teresa Nichols, came to CHS last week and informed the American Government and American History classes of the event. Two representatives of the Red and Black staff asked the seniors what they thought of Circleville High School in relation with Miami Trace High School.

The visitors were mainly impressed with the friendliness and good spirit of the students and teachers. They also said that the CHS building was a lot newer and nicer.

Also, for local students who think the dress code is strict, the two Miami Trace representatives said that it was much more liberal than theirs. "At Miami Trace," they said, "girls are not allowed to wear jeans, and they cannot wear blouses tucked in; they must wear something over the top of their slacks."

Special Instrument Team Gives CHS Orchestra Unity

SPECIALTY — This unit of the CHS concert band has a special place in creating the pleasing overall tones. Its membership contains some of the oddest appearing and named instruments in the orchestra, but which show their value in blending the harsher, shriller tones of others.

By DAN DeLONG

Dallas has one, Baltimore has one, the Vikings have one and so do the Los Angeles Rams. Every team must have a special unit. This unit is filled with skilled specialists who can perform techniques which no one else on the team has the ability to play.

The captain of the block-bursting team in Circleville is the contrabass clarinet. Its ultimate goal is to counter the high shrill sounds of the high pitched clarinets. Opponents many times don't have a chance as they are double teamed by the contrabass clarinet and the bass clarinet. The bassoon is another of the big reed three who counter all offensive sounds.

When a little offensive punch is needed in the backfield, the E flat trumpet and flugel horn come in to deliver the added power. These two carry the offense much the same way that the great backfield team of Csonka and Kiick do for the Miami Dolphins. But when the offense needs a long sustained drive, the assignment is given to the hero of the double reeds, the oboe. With its amazing ability it carries the melody while dodging defenders and would-be dissonances.

A very large menace to many offensive units is the versatile baritone saxophone. From its middle linebacking position the big saxophone shows its superiority over interior lines of the offensive bass unit.

An important fact is these highly skilled individuals work with the efficiency of an experienced coherent unit. When coordinated with the rest of the "team" it makes them the most well-balanced musical sound in the CHS league.

Aid Through Guidance

By LYN JACOBS

As exams come to an end this week and the last semester of another fast school year begins, once again the pace of school events has quickened.

For the benefit of CHS seniors who have not yet made a final decision about college, and those juniors who have begun looking toward the future, spokesmen from various colleges will be visiting the high school. A representative from Defiance College spoke to students today, and representatives of Capital University and the University of Cincinnati will be here January 27.

Also dealing with colleges, a College and Career Night will be held at Miami Trace High School Jan. 26 from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. Representatives of nearly 100 schools — public, private and technical — have been invited. Students, parents and faculty from all the schools in the SCOL are welcome to attend.

An SCOL student council meeting was held in December at Miami Trace High School. Delegates from CHS were Jill Hoffman, Tom Shea and Mike Logan. Discussed at this meeting were tentative plans for an SCOL Olympic Day at Greenfield McClain High School in April. Contests taking place at this event will include creative writing, weight lifting, swimming, typing, chess and a number of other activities.

An American History contest test will be given at CHS Jan. 26-27. Winners of divisions in this qualifying examination will go to Ohio University at a later date to take another test, competing for a scholarship.

Calendar

Jan. 21 — Basketball game, home, Miami Trace; End of third six weeks.
Jan. 22 — Basketball game, away, Westfall; Licking Heights wrestling tournament — 13 teams.
Jan. 26 — Triangular wrestling meet at Ready — Bexley, Ready, Circleville.

Say Harding Love Letters 'Amusing'

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Love letters written by President Warren G. Harding could have been considered shocking in Harding's day but would only amuse the more sophisticated modern reader, a former curator of the Ohio Historical Society says.

Kenneth W. Duckett gave that view in discussing the letters with the Southern Illinoisian, a daily newspaper published in Carbondale.

Duckett, now archivist at Southern Illinois University, said the letters were written to Carrie Phillips, wife of a well-to-do department store owner in Harding's hometown of Marion, Ohio. They covered the period 1910 to 1920.

About 75 per cent of the letters could be considered love letters, Duckett said, and many were written on U.S. Senate stationery. Harding served in the Senate before being elected president in 1920.

Mrs. Phillips died in 1960, and the letters were discovered in a closet, stuffed into a shoebox. Her lawyer turned them over to author Francis Russell for use in Russell's biography of Harding, "The Shadow of Blooming Grove."

Russell in turn gave them to the historical society.

Harding's heirs, however, went to court and obtained an injunction against publication of the correspondence, which they contended would embarrass the family. They agreed to give the letters to the Library of Congress on condition they remain sealed until 2014.

Webb Has Good Record In Wrestling

DAVE WEBB

By JEFF HARR

Dave Webb has been selected as Circleville's matman of the week. Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Webb of 109 Dunmore Road. Dave has two brothers, Mike, age 19 and Sam, age 13.

Dave is a seventeen-year-old junior who wrestles in the 132 pound class. He wrestled in the same class last year and posted a 25-1 record, his only loss coming in the state tournament. Last year Dave also won two tournaments and was sectional and district wrestling champ as well as winning his weight class in the league.

Among Dave's other accomplishments are two letters in football, selection to the all-SCOL defensive football team, and a letter on the league champion track team.

Dave is also very active in school as he is enrolled in the college preparatory course. He has been voted onto the student council, selected as Junior Class president, and holds an office in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

After high school Dave plans to go to college and undoubtedly he will get some help athletically. He has two areas of study in mind — ministry and law.

When Dave graduates he will have earned nine letters and several all-league awards. This all comes from hard work and dedication, but even Dave finds time for hobbies and likes which are music, athletics, ice water, and Kathy.

Orient State History Told To Classes

By KAREN LITTEN

"There are a number of so called institutions of mercy throughout Ohio and Orient State Institute is the largest. . . Its great purpose is rehabilitation, that is, to prepare the individual to learn and adjust to community programs . . . and communities must be educated to accept this." Those are the words of Rev. Raymon Kronkright from Orient, who spoke to all psychology classes at the high school last week.

Orient State Institute had its beginning in 1889 when it started as a part of the Columbus State Institute. Orient has grown steadily and now has 900 staff members serving its residents.

Rev. Kronkright spoke of the Institute's many rehabilitation programs. The home economics program trains some residents to cook and sew things for themselves and each other.

A Boy Scout Program is also at Orient. There the boys are left to make decisions for themselves and are not told what to do. They are left to enjoy the little freedom they might have.

Orient strives to "plant something in the person to give him something to hang on to and to influence his life . . . to make them want to live up to certain standards and to bring out the best in 'hem,'" stated Rev. Kronkright.

Orient is financed by tax money, federal aid and social security. Since not all the residents at Orient are able to pay for their keep and education, these other financial means must be used.

Rev. Kronkright pointed out that the people of Pickaway County and any other county have obligations to meet because the people in and from Orient and from any other Institute like it, need understanding citizens to receive them when they go out into the communities.

The University of Northern Colorado has 59 undergraduate programs.

Students Picked For In The Know

By LISA WILLIAMS

What is a sobquet? What is a coquette? What does a lexicographer do? These are only three of the questions asked to this year's In-The-Know team as they prepare for their first meet against Hilliard. Try-outs for the team began just after Pumpkin Show and continued for four to six weeks.

During these few weeks a record was kept on each person that tried out as to the total times they attempted answering the questions and the total times they were correct. Questions were categorized into such classes as: music, art, mathematics, general knowledge, history, government, geography, science, literature, religion, vocabulary or miscellaneous. The quickness with which students responded to the questions was also a very important factor.

The final selection was made only a few days before the Thanksgiving vacation, and members have been working diligently ever since.

Comprising this year's varsity team is senior Mark Plescia. Mark resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plescia at 240 Edwards Road. He has two brothers and one sister.

When asked how he felt the general morale of the team was, he replied, "I think it is very high and everyone is hoping to win."

After graduation Mark plans to go on to college.

Andy Hoffman is another senior on the team. Andy resides at Route 2 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hoffman Jr. and his sister and brother.

He feels that the team will win because "The team was picked well in advance, and we've been practicing very hard since November."

Andy has been accepted at Purdue University, and he plans to major in political science.

Junior member of the group is Mike Cairns. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cairns, and one sister at 583 Hickory Place. Mike also feels that they are well prepared to meet their opponents.

Mike plans to go to college at either Ohio State or the University of Virginia.

Sophomore member is Tom Hamilton. Tom resides at 592 Willow Lane with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Neal Hamilton. He has one brother.

When asked about what he thought about the opposition, he stated, "They'll be a fair amount of competition, but I feel we can take them."

Tom plans to become a lawyer and eventually a professional millionaire.

Making up the Reserve Team is June Brudzinski, Jim Gazdik, Tom Spring and Dean Gulick.

June, who is first alternate to the varsity team, resides at 220 Walnut Creek Pike with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brudzinski.

Tom Spring resides at 579 Northridge Road with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Spring and two sisters.

Dean Gulick resides at 355 Sunset Drive with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gulick and one sister.

Jim Gazdik resides at 328 E. Mound St. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gazdik.

The first match will be shown live on television for the public to see Feb. 3.

With ice skaters and fishermen chomping at the bit, while the weatherman fiddle-faddles around, we thought the following article released by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources would be apropos at this time.

"Many ice fishermen are all set for the 1972 ice fishing season but rainy spring-like weather has prolonged their wait. The following "cold facts" are provided in hopes that an ice cover is soon formed on our lakes and streams:

Two inches of ice will support one man on foot; three inches will support a group of people in single file; and seven and one-half inches will support a car or truck (two gross tons).

New ice is stronger than old and ice formed by direct freezing of lake water is stronger than ice formed by melting snow.

River and stream ice is about 15 percent weaker than lake or pond ice.

Slush ice is about one-half as strong as clear blue ice.

Removal of snow from the ice surface will increase its thickness during subsequent freezes.

Ice thickness is not always an accurate measure as to strength or safety.

Anglers are urged to observe these guidelines to safety on the ice, especially during this late season when safety could be outweighed by long awaited good ice fishing."

As in everything else in life it all boils down to one thing — Don't skate on thin ice.

Our little gem of information — In 10 years on the golf tour, Jack Nicklaus has never been on a winning pro-amateur team.

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville will cage the Panthers and handle the Mustangs . . . Logan Elm will edge Westfall . . . Teays Valley could take a pair from West Jeff and Wehrle . . . Lee Trevino looks like the best bet in the Dean Martin-Tucson Open . . . National Conference will upend the American in the Pro Bowl.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Unorthodox Charles Owens Ties For Lead At Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Charles Owens drives the golf purists out of their minds.

He hits everything cross-handed, that is, with his left hand lower than his right when he grips the club. And he can't bend his left knee.

And he's also tied for the lead with George Archer after one round of the $150,000 Dean Martin-Tucson Open golf tournament. Each had a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 Thursday on the 7,305-yard Tucson National Golf Club course.

"They say you're supposed to have a firm left side in golf," the soft-spoken 34-year-old Owens said. "Well, I've got the firmest left side in the world."

His knee was fused in an operation after he injured it in a practice jump while a member of the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C.

And about that cross-handed grip?

"My father was a greenskeeper at Winter Haven, Fla.," he said. "We lived on the course. When I started playing, I didn't have anyone to play with or anyone to teach me."

"I thought I was doing it right. I had two hands on the club just like everyone else."

Owens and Archer, who won the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open two weeks ago, held a one stroke lead over Lou Graham and defending champion J. C. Snead, tied at 66.

Tiger Reserve Wrestlers Down Lancaster, 28-24

Circleville's reserve wrestling squad downed Lancaster, 28-24, in a dual meet Thursday.

Here are the complete results of the meet:

OSU-Indiana Game Highlights Slate

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fred Taylor isn't casting his thoughts to next week past another pupil vs. teacher basketball battle Saturday when Indiana invades Ohio State.

"Indiana's our problem right now," said the Ohio State coach, ducking any mention of his team's Big Ten title-bearing trip to Minnesota Tuesday.

The Gophers, at Michigan State Saturday, have a 3-0 Big Ten record to 2-0 for the defending champion Buckeyes.

The Indiana-Ohio State duel should be a defensive struggle with Taylor and Hoosier boss Bobby Knight, who played for Taylor with the Buckeyes in 1960-62, both stressing it.

"I know Bobby's been having his troubles in the last few games, but I also know he coaches good basketball," said Taylor. The Hoosiers have lost three in a row.

The seventh-ranked Buckeyes will face Indiana without 6-foot-

8 reserve forward-center Mark Wagar, nursing a sprained ankle.

The Indiana-Ohio State contest headlines a busy 27-game Ohio college schedule that includes two Mid-American and five Ohio Conference pairings.

The big one in the Mid-American is a regionally-televisematinee game between defending champion Miami, 2-2, and league-leading Ohio University, 3-0.

With only a 10-game league schedule, the Bobcats could all but eliminate the Redskins from title consideration with a third loss in the first five contests.

Meanwhile, Toledo, 3-1, can remain in the thick of the Mid-American chase with a home victory over Western Michigan. The Rockets won at Western Michigan earlier in the season 88-84.

In other major college contests, Dayton visits Kent State, 16th-ranked Marshall swings up to Bowling Green, Detroit travels to Xavier and Tulsa invades Cincinnati.

In other OC games, Oberlin is at Wittenberg, Kenyon at Marietta, Mount Union at Ohio Wesleyan and Denison at Baldwin-Wallace.

Elsewhere Saturday, Heidelberg is at Hiram, Wooster at Case Western Reserve, Cedarville at Walsh, Bluffton at Wilmington, Defiance at Malone, Findlay at Urbana, John Carroll at Allegheny.

Oakland, Mich., is at Ashland, St. Francis, Pa., at Cleveland State. Central State at Central Michigan, Rio Grande at Wright State, Wayne State at Akron, Northern Kentucky State at Steubenville, Youngstown State at Westminster and Ohio Dominican at Ohio Northern.

NEW YORK (AP) — Evonne Goolagong, who upset defending champion Margaret Court to become the youngest woman to win the Wimbledon singles tennis title in 12 years, was named Woman Athlete of the Year by The Associated Press today.

The Australian teen-ager—just one month shy of her 20th birthday when she scored straight set victories over Billie Jean King in the semifinals and Mrs. Court, also an Australian, in the championship round—received 249 votes from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., another teen-ager who burst into tennis championship circles, was second with 163½ votes and Mrs. King of Long Beach, Calif., was a close third with 161.

Miss Evert, 16, pulled out a Wightman Cup victory for the injury-riddled American team when, as the youngest girl ever to play in the British-American classic, she defeated Winnie Shaw and Virginia Wade.

Billie Jean, 27, Athlete of the Year in 1967, was an activist in the movement to upgrade the status of women's tennis in America. She was so successful in the inaugural year of the women's own professional tennis circuit that she became the first of her sex to win more than $100,000 in a single season.

Katly Whitworth, winner of the award in 1965 and 1966, was fourth in the balloting with 120 votes. Miss Whitworth, a 32-year-old Texan, is the all-time money winner on the women's professional golf circuit with nearly $350,000. This year, she was named the LPGA's Player of the year and received the Vare Trophy.

Others receiving votes were Shane Gould, the 15-year-old Australian swimming champion who shattered five world freestyle records, 116½ votes; Laura Baugh, Long Beach, Calif., at 16 the youngest ever to win the U.S. Amateur golf championship, 60 votes; and Anne-Marie Proell, 17-year-old World Cup Alpine ski champion from Austria, 40 votes.

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Carlos Ortiz, former world lightweight champion, has won the third consecutive fight in his comeback attempt after a 2½-year layoff.

The 35-year-old fighter from The Bronx, N.Y., won a fourth round TKO over Terry Rondeau, 135, of Pittsfield, Mass., in Thursday night's scheduled 10-round main bout at the Portland Exposition building.

Don Luce scored a first-period goal Thursday night, giving the Sabres a 1-0 victory over the Canucks and moving them into sixth place in the East Division of the NHL. The loss dropped the Canucks into the basement spot.

Duquesne Rips Notre Dame, 84-79

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

After losing by 65 points to Indiana earlier this year, Notre Dame Coach Dick Phelps philosophized that things could be worse.

He was right. Things have gotten worse for his basketball team.

The fighting Irish have been beaten four of five times since that Indiana humiliation, including an 84-79 defeat to Duquesne Thursday night.

"We're not a good running club and we're not a good shooting club . . . and, actually, there's not much else," says Phelps, who's not used to such ineptness.

Before he came to Notre Dame this season, Phelps didn't know what it was like to be a loser. He coached spectacular freshmen teams at Penn and led Fordham's exciting club into the NCAA playoffs last season.

He knew he wouldn't have a rose garden at Notre Dame, with the loss of seven players from last year's 21-8 squad. But, on the other hand, he didn't expect all the thorns. Two returning lettermen were lost to injury and a bright sophomore was bounced because of disciplinary problems.

Georgia Tech, one of the eight teams to Beat Notre Dame this season, trimmed Tulane 94-78 in Thursday night's action which included none of the ranked clubs.

Elsewhere, LaSalle topped American University 59-53 and Temple ripped St. John's, N.Y. 79-65 in a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra; Utah turned back Utah State 66-59; Tulsa nipped Creighton 76-75 and St. Louis trounced Evansville 94-81; and Oral Roberts, the nation's leading scoring team, beat Idaho State 86-85.

Notre Dame had serious intentions of winning its fourth game in 11 this year before Duquesne cut off a late Irish rally. Lionel Billings scored 29 points for the Dukes, who won their 11th game in 12.

Steve Post scored 28 points and Bob "Peanut" Murphy had 22 to pace Georgia Tech over Tulane; Steve Baruffi scored two field goals and made a key steal in the final minutes for LaSalle; Temple held St. John's to three field goals in the first 16 minutes to handily whipped the Redmen; John Dearman

Tiger Wrestlers In LH Tourney

Circleville's wrestling squad will compete in the Licking Heights Tournament Saturday with preliminaries getting underway at 10 a.m. and the finals set for 8 p.m.

In addition to Circleville and Licking Heights the field includes Bexley, Grandview, Olentangy, Marysville, Columbus Ready, Hamilton Twp., Millin, New Albany, Utica, Watkins Memorial and Columbus Wehrle.

"Bexley, Grandview, Olentangy, Marysville and Ready all have strong squads and we will have to go all out against them," Tiger Coach Brent Bell stated.

Probable starters for the Tigers will be Mark Scherer,

THE Tigers have been improving with each outing and have to be considered one of the top teams in the tournament.

Anyone going to the meet can go out E. Broad St. to Licking County Road, turn left on Licking County Road and the school is right there.

Westfall Cage Tilt Switched To Logan Elm

Due to a fire at Westfall High School the basketball game between Logan Elm and the Westfall Mustangs will be played at Logan Elm's Spangler Gymnasium, George D. McDowell Exchange School, tonight, it has been announced by Paul Hoskins, WHS athletic director.

The fire was in the area of the Westfall gymnasium. The reserve game tonight will start at 6:30 p.m. No decision has been made yet concerning the Circleville - Westfall game scheduled at Westfall Saturday.

Top Runner Slams AAU Organization

LOS ANGELES (AP) — George Young says he'd like to compete in the 1972 Olympic Games but if he does, he'll run without wearing the patch of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

Young kicks off his 15th season in international track tonight when he takes on five other stars in a two-mile run at the Sunkist Indoor Games. When he takes the track, he'll be representing George Young, teacher, Casa Grande, Ariz.

"I haven't worn the AAU patch in a year and I don't intend to wear it again," said Young.

"Their organization is so poor in so many ways and the athletes suffer because of it. It's forced the big names out of the sport and pushed track and field farther and farther into the background."

Young, the American record holder at two miles, said what the AAU needs most is a promoter.

"The AAU needs to be strengthened out. For years and years they've been promoting their organization instead of promoting the sport."

"For example, take this Sunkist meet. Al Franken, the promoter who was barred by the AAU a few years ago, puts together a great meet that'll probably be a sellout."

"Why? Because he got one good race—Jim Ryan versus Kip Keino. That's what the people want to see."

3 Qualify In Winston Western 500

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Three members of auto racing's 1971 All-American team have made the starting field for the Winston Western 500 and Bobby Allison hoped to make it four as time trials continued today.

Allison, stock car racing's No. 2 money winner last year, stood by helplessly Thursday as A. J. Foyt, Richard Petty and Mark Donohue grabbed the first three spots in Sunday's $100,000 lineup. "The shift linkage broke and I didn't get in a full lap," Allison said as he pulled his new Chevrolet into the garage area.

Foyt, the 1969 winner, won the pole in a Mercury at 110.033 miles per hour.

Petty was clocked at 109.389 m.p.h. in a Plymouth and will line up beside Foyt for the two-abreast start Sunday.

Donohue, making his first appearance in stock car racing, drove a new American Motors Matador and recorded a speed of 108.432 m.p.h. despite an engine that had gone sour in practice.

Allison, Foyt, Petty and Donohue were selected for last year's All-American team by the American Auto Racing Writers and Broadcasters Association. Donohue, Petty and Allison also were selected drivers of the year by various groups.

With the first 15 spots in the 44-car starting list settled Thursday, Allison and three-time Grand National champ David Pearson were top candidates today for the 16th spot.

Ken Hodge, 6-foot-2 right wing, is the tallest player on the Boston Bruins.

Tiger Frosh Cagers Down Miami Trace

Circleville's freshmen cagers downed Miami Trace, 36-32, Thursday at the Roundtown gym.

The little Tigers jumped off to an 18-9 lead at the end of the first period and held a 26-18 lead at halftime.

But the Roundtowners hit a cold spell in the third quarter and saw their lead cut to 28-24 at the conclusion of the canto.

Both teams battled on even terms in the final frame as the Tigers were able to maintain their four point edge and gain the victory.

PERRY Hoskins led Circleville with 12 points, Phil Roll and Pat McNaughton tallied 10 apiece while Dave Bevan and Doug Palm each hooped two for the winners.

Ater paced Trace with eight points and Glass and Landrum each added six in the losing effort.

Circleville is now 8-3 and will host Chillicothe Mt. Logan Thursday.

Buffalo Sabres Defeat Canucks, 1-0

While all the attention is focused on the top of the National Hockey League standings, Buffalo and Vancouver have their own world down below.

Don Luce scored a first-period goal Thursday night, giving the Sabres a 1-0 victory over the Canucks and moving them into sixth place in the East Division of the NHL. The loss dropped the Canucks into the basement spot.

McDowell Nips Little Tigers In Overtime

McDowell Junior High nipped Circleville's Junior cagers in a 46-45 overtime thriller Thursday at Saltcreek School.

It was a nip and tuck affair all the way with Circleville holding a 10-7 lead at the end of the first period.

McDowell gained an 18-17 edge at halftime but Circleville picked up in the third stanza to maintain a 26-22 lead at the conclusion of the canto.

Circleville opened up a six point gap in the fourth quarter but the little Braves fought back to knot the count 38-38 at the end of regulation play.

IN the overtime period Circleville held a 45-44 advantage with seven seconds left on the clock but Jeff Reichelderfer ripped the nets with a two-pointer to give McDowell the victory.

Reichelderfer hooped 16 points to lead all scorers in the contest. Steve Rawlins added 10, Bob Sargent had 11, Scott Allen four and Lonnie Maxson five for the winners.

George Moore had 12 tallies for Circleville, Frank Merrill netted 11, Mike Lawter eight, Brent Mancini and Biff Bumgarner had six apiece and Dan Marshall two in the losing effort.

Circleville is now 4-6 for the season and will be at Chillicothe Mt. Logan 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

McDowell is now 7-3 in the record book.

After losing by 65 points to Indiana earlier this year, Notre Dame Coach Dick Phelps philosophized that things could be worse.

Kathy Whitworth, winner of the award in 1965 and 1966, was fourth in the balloting with 120 votes. Miss Whitworth, a 32-year-old Texan, is the all-time money winner on the women's professional golf circuit with nearly $350,000. This year, she was named the LPGA's Player of the Year and received the Vare Trophy.

Others receiving votes were Shane Gould, the 15-year-old Australian swimming champion who shattered five world freestyle records, 116½ votes; Laura Baugh, Long Beach, Calif., at 16 the youngest ever to win the U.S. Amateur golf championship, 60 votes, and Anne-Marie Proell, 17-year-old World Cup Alpine ski champion from Austria, 40 votes.

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Carlos Ortiz, former world lightweight champion, has won the third consecutive fight in his comeback attempt after a 2½-year layoff.

The 35-year-old fighter from The Bronx, N.Y., won a fourth round TKO over Terry Rondeau, 135, of Pittsfield, Mass., in Thursday night's scheduled 10-round main bout at the Portland Exposition building.

Don Luce scored a first-period goal Thursday night, giving the Sabres a 1-0 victory over the Canucks and moving them into sixth place in the East Division of the NHL. The loss dropped the Canucks into the basement spot.

The little Tigers jumped off to an 18-9 lead at the end of the first period and held a 26-18 lead at halftime.

But the Roundtowners hit a cold spell in the third quarter and saw their lead cut to 28-24 at the conclusion of the canto.

Both teams battled on even terms in the final frame as the Tigers were able to maintain their four point edge and gain the victory.

PERRY Hoskins led Circleville with 12 points, Phil Roll and Pat McNaughton tallied 10 apiece while Dave Bevan and Doug Palm each hooped two for the winners.

Ater paced Trace with eight points and Glass and Landrum each added six in the losing effort.

Circleville is now 8-3 and will host Chillicothe Mt. Logan Thursday.

Tiger Wrestlers In LH Tourney

Circleville's wrestling squad will compete in the Licking Heights Tournament Saturday with preliminaries getting underway at 10 a.m. and the finals set for 8 p.m.

In addition to Circleville and Licking Heights the field includes Bexley, Grandview, Olentangy, Marysville, Columbus Ready, Hamilton Twp., Mifflin, New Albany, Utica, Watkins Memorial and Columbus Wehrle.

"Bexley, Grandview, Olentangy, Marysville and Ready all have strong squads and we will have to go all out against them," Tiger Coach Brent Bell stated.

Probable starters for the Tigers will be Mark Scherer,

THE Tigers have been improving with each outing and have to be considered one of the top teams in the tournament.

Anyone going to the meet can go out E. Broad St. to Licking County Road, turn left on Licking County Road and the school is right there.

Westfall Cage Tilt Switched To Logan Elm

Due to a fire at Westfall High School the basketball game between Logan Elm and the Westfall Mustangs will be played at Logan Elm's Spangler Gymnasium, George D. McDowell Exchange School, tonight, it has been announced by Paul Hoskins, WITS athletic director.

The fire was in the area of the Westfall gymnasium. The reserve game tonight will start at 6:30 p.m. No decision has been made yet concerning the Circleville — Westfall game scheduled at Westfall Saturday.

3 Quality In Winston Western 500

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Three members of auto racing's 1971 All-American team have made the starting field for the Winston Western 500 and Bobby Allison hoped to make it four as time trials continued today.

Allison, stock car racing's No. 2 money winner last year, stood by helplessly Thursday as A. J. Foyt, Richard Petty and Mark Donohue grabbed the first three spots in Sunday's $100,000 lineup. "The shift linkage broke and I didn't get in a full lap," Allison said as he pulled his new Chevrolet into the garage area.

Foyt, the 1969 winner, won the pole in a Mercury at 110.033 miles per hour.

Petty was clocked at 109.389 m.p.h. in a Plymouth and will line up beside Foyt for the two-abreast start Sunday.

Donohue, making his first appearance in stock car racing, drove a new American Motors Matador and recorded a speed of 108.432 m.p.h. despite an engine that had gone sour in practice.

Allison, Foyt, Petty and Donohue were selected for last year's All-American team by the American Auto Racing Writers and Broadcasters Association. Donohue, Petty and Allison also were selected drivers of the year by various groups.

With the first 15 spots in the 44-car starting list settled Thursday, Allison and three-time Grand National champ David Pearson were top candidates today for the 16th spot.

Ken Hodge, 6-foot-2 right wing, is the tallest player on the Boston Bruins.

"The AAU needs to be straightened out. For years and years they've been promoting their organization instead of promoting the sport."

"For example, take this Sun-kist meet. Al Franken, the promoter who was barred by the AAU a few years ago, puts together a great meet that'll probably be a sellout."

"Why? Because he got one good race—Jim Ryun versus Kip Keino. That's what the people want to see."

Wayne Simpson's signing was announced earlier by the Reds.

Nolan struck out 146 batters in 245 innings last season, and his earned run average was 3.17. He has won 61 games and lost 42 for the Reds in six years and has compiled a 2.98 ERA.

Jackie Brown's 30 points paved the way for Ohio Wesleyan to score a 93-82 Ohio Conference triumph over host Muskingum Thursday night. Gary Ferber had 22, Gene Ford 21 and Jim Vejsicky 20 for the Muskies.

Thomas More overturned a 10-point first half lead to decision Central State 83-75 and Wheeling used a 53-point second half to bounce Walsh 80-56.

McDowell Junior High nipped Circleville's Junior cagers in a 46-45 overtime thriller Thursday at Saltcreek School.

It was a nip and tuck affair all the way with Circleville holding a 10-7 lead at the end of the first period.

McDowell gained an 18-17 edge at halftime but Circleville picked up in the third stanza to maintain a 26-22 lead at the conclusion of the canto.

Circleville opened up a six point gap in the fourth quarter but the little Braves fought back to knot the count 38-38 at the end of regulation play.

IN the overtime period Circleville held a 45-44 advantage with seven seconds left on the clock but Jeff Reichelderfer ripped the nets with a two-point shot to give McDowell the victory.

1. Card of Thanks

I want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my friends, relatives and neighbors for all the cards, flowers, gifts, visits and prayers during my stay at Berger and University Hospitals.
Also a special thanks to Rev.
Charles Hemming and Rev. Roy
Osborne and to all who donated blood in my name. Sincerely,
Emmett Hinton

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation to relatives, friends, neighbors and members of the church for their kindness and sympathy at the death of our beloved wife and mother,
Charles Hemming and Rev. Roy
Osborne and to all who donated blood in my name. Sincerely,
Edith Caroline Cotton

We would like to take this time to say thanks to Dr. McCoy, Defenbaugh Funeral Home, and also to Rev. Roy Osborne for their kindness before and after the death of our mother, grandmother and great grandmother, Myrtle J. Hettinger.
Although our hearts are still heavy with sorrow of her passing away,
she was a true Christian mother soft and kind in her own way to
all. We would like to thank many relatives, friends and neighbors for their prayers, flowers, cards of sincere sympathy and kindness we all received in the passing away of our mother, Myrtle
J. Hettinger. A special thanks goes to the ladies of the Crusaders Sunday School Class of Calvary United Methodist Church who helped us out in our time of sorrow. Thanks again
Rev. Roy Osborne.
Mr. & Mrs. Ralph (Geraldine) Diltz
and Bruce,
Mr. & Mrs. Robert Hettinger,
Judy and Larry,
Mr. & Mrs. Nolan Hettinger

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to everyone who so thoughtfully and kindly helped us in any way during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother and grandmother, Myrtle J. Hettinger. A special thanks goes to the ladies of the Crusaders
Sunday School Class of Calvary United Methodist Church who helped us out in our time of sorrow. Thanks again Rev. Roy Osborne.
The J. H. Brooks family

I would like to express a sincere "Thank You" to all who have assisted in any way during the illness and death of my beloved wife, Mrs. Ruth Murielle. Especially to remember Rev. Flowers for his many visits and comforting words.
Drs. Routh and Hedges, also the nursing staff at Berger Hospital for all their help and kind attention.
Defenbaugh Funeral Home for their efficient service; the pallbearers;
my wonderful neighbors who have helped so generously, also for all the flowers, contributions, visits and prayers in her behalf.
For all this may you be richly blessed as I will be everlasting grateful.
Waldo Murielle

1. Card of Thanks

I want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, relatives and neighbors for all the cards, flowers, gifts, visits
and prayers during my stay at Berger and University Hospital.
Also a special thanks to Rev.
Charles Hemming and Rev. Roy Shabone and all who donated blood in my name. Sincerely,
Emmett Hinton

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation to relatives, friends, neighbors and members of the Church for their kindness and sympathy at the death of our beloved Wife and Mother.
A special thanks to Rev. John Denney for his comforting thoughts, words and prayers and to Mader
Funeral Home.
Husband and Sons of
Edith Caroline Cotton

We would like to take this time to say thanks to Dr. McEvoy, Defenbaugh Funeral Home, and also to Rev. Roy Osborn for their kindness before and after the death of our mother, Grandmother and great grandmother, Myrtle J. Hettinger.
Although our hearts are still heavy
with sorrow of her passing away,
she was a true Christian mother soft and kind in her own way to
all. We would like to thank our many relatives, friends and neighbors for their prayers, flowers, cards of sincere sympathy and kindness we all received in her passing away of our mother, Myrtle
J. Hettinger. A special thanks goes to the ladies of Crusaders Sunday School Class of Calvary United Methodist Church who helped us out in our time of sorrow. Thanks again to Rev. Roy Osborn.
Mr. & Mrs. Ralph (Geraldine) Diltz
and Bruce.
Mr. & Mrs. Robert Hettinger,
Judy and Larry.
Mr. & Mrs. Nolan Hettinger

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to everyone who so thoughtfully and kindly helped us in any way during the illness and death of our beloved wife, Mrs. Ruth Murielle. Especially to remember Rev. Flowers for his many visits and comforting words;
Dr. Routhahn and Hedges, also the nursing staff at Berger Hospital for all their help and kind attention;
Defenbaugh Funeral Home for their efficient service; the pallbearers;
my wonderful neighbors who have helped so generously, also for all the flowers, contributions, visits and prayers in her behalf.
For all this may you be richly blessed as I will be everlasting grateful.
Waldo Murielle

ORIGINANCE NO. 90-71
AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING AN ADDITIONAL TAPPING FEE FOR CONNECTING TO THE SANITARY SEWAGE COLLECTION SYSTEM BY ENACTING SECTION 923.15 TO THE CODIFIED ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE.

SECTION 1: There is hereby enacted Section 923.15 of the Codified Ordinances of the City of Circleville to read as follows: "923.15 ADDITIONAL FEE. All persons making a connection to the sanitary sewer collecting system or altering or changing the use of the land served where there is an existing connection as contemplated hereinafter, shall pay the City of Circleville, in addition to the charges provided in Section 923.07 and 923.08 of the Codified Ordinances of the City of Circleville the following fees:

a. For single dwelling units for which a sewer permit is needed, the charge shall be $200.00.
b. Multiple family dwelling structure for which a sewer permit is needed the charge shall be $300.00 for each family unit.
c. For any structure intended partially or wholly for commercial purposes, for which a sewer permit is needed, the charge shall be $400.00 for the first commercial unit proposed for the structure, plus $300.00 per unit for each additional unit proposed. Dwelling units in commercial structures shall be charged as in "b" above. (Commercial is defined as an establishment wherein a business activity is to provide merchandise or services to those who need them.) A commercial unit shall consist of a structure or part thereof having 40,000 square feet or less.

d. For any structure intended partially or wholly for industrial purposes for which a sewer permit is needed, the charge shall be $750.00 for the first industrial unit proposed for the structure. Commercial units in industrial structures will be charged as in "c" above. (Industry is defined as any activity where materials are received, are altered by one or more internal operations, and then dispatched in the altered form.) An industrial unit shall consist of a structure or part thereof having 40,000 square feet or less.

e. All municipal county and state activities shall be classed as commercial providing services.

f. All churches, schools, hospitals and other services organizations shall be classed as commercial providing services.

g. The Board of Public Utilities shall administer the collection of this fee, and it is hereby granted authority as may be necessary to collect the same, including the right to withhold issuance of a permit, until said fee is paid. The fees shall be credited to a separate fund called "Sanitary Sewer Improvement and Extension Fund."

SECTION 2: That this ordinance is declared to be an emergency measure, necessary for the preservation of the health, safety and welfare of the City of Circleville and the inhabitants thereof, and for the further reason that immediate establishment of sewer connection fee and charges is necessary to enable the City to go forward with necessary improvements needed in the existing system; therefore this ordinance shall take effect and be in force upon its passage and approval.

Economic Data Shows Upsurge In Last Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pace of the nation's economy quickened in the final three months of 1971, growing at a snappy 6.1 per cent rate while inflation slowed to a crawl, the Commerce Department said today in a report of national output.

Despite the sharp pickup in growth, however, the economy turned in a disappointing performance for all of 1971. It grew at an average of 2.7 per cent for the year, well below the rate needed to trim unemployment.

But the fourth-quarter gain in Gross National Product output of the nation's goods and services, gave the Nixon administration new hope that the economy has moved out of the doldrums, ready for a strong 1972 advance.

The 6.1 per cent increase in "real GNP," output measured in terms of 1958 non-inflated dollars, was coupled with a marked deceleration in the rate of inflation, partly reflecting President Nixon's moves to control wages and prices.

As measured by GNP, inflation rose by only 1.5 per cent, the lowest quarterly rate since the third quarter of 1965, the department said. That compared with a 2.5 per cent rate in the third quarter and a 4.6 per cent average rate for all of 1971.

It was during the middle of the quarter that Nixon's wage-price freeze moved into the less stringent Phase 2, in which wages and prices were allowed to go up within certain limits.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said almost two-thirds of last month's jump was due to a 1.1 per cent increase in food prices, highlighted by a big 5.6 per cent jump in the cost of fresh fruits and vegetables.

For all of 1971 the cost of living rose 3.4 per cent, lowest since a 3.0 per cent increase in 1967. Intervening increases were 4.7 per cent in 1968, 6.1 per cent in 1969, and 5.5 per cent in 1970.

The four-tenths of one per cent December jump was twice the largest increase for any month during the August 15-November 14 price freeze. The administration has long predicted a "bulge" in prices would show up because strict freeze controls became more flexible in the second phase of President Nixon's economic stabilization program.

The increase for December was the same whether figured on an unadjusted basis or adjusted to compensate for normal seasonal variations.

It included besides the 1.1 per cent increase in food prices, a three-tenths of one per cent increase in the cost of housing and a two-tenths of one per cent increase for health and recreation. There were some declines. Apparel and upkeep dipped one-tenths of one per cent and transportation fell two-tenths of one per cent.

During the Price Freeze the Consumer Price Index advanced one-tenth of one per cent in September and two-tenths of one per cent in both October and November.

The government said that in the four months since President Nixon announced the price freeze the cost of living has risen at a yearly rate, seasonally adjusted, of 2.4 per cent. This compares with a 4.1 per cent rate for the six preceding months.

Ex-Newport Police Chief Gugel Dies

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — George Fred Gugel, 76, chief of police for 15 years during the wide open gambling days in Newport, died Thursday.

Gugel joined the Newport force in 1930 after serving eight years as a deputy with the Campbell County Sheriff's department, was named chief of police in 1946.

Gugel was under constant attack from reform groups starting in 1948 until his final ouster by Kentucky Gov. Bert Combs in 1961.

Gugel, who was past retirement age of 65 when dismissed, was granted a pension by the Newport City Commission. Seven others were ousted during an investigation of Newport by a special commission appointed by the governor.

Gugel successfully defended himself against an earlier ouster attempt for malfeasance and nonfeasance in 1953.

Gugel was fined $1,000, however, in U.S. District Court at Covington, Ky. for violating the civil rights of Louisville Courier-Journal photographer George Bailey who was attempting to photograph a raid at a Newport night spot.

Ohio Supreme Court Sets Review Of Malpractice Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court agreed Thursday to hear a case which centers on the question of how long a physician continues to be the "personal doctor" of a person under treatment.

The issue stems from a malpractice suit filed June 5, 1951, against the estate of the late Dr. William Gilmore of East Liverpool.

A jury awarded William Millbaugh $75,000 for a damaged muscle he said he suffered in an operation Jan. 8, 1959, but a Columbus County Common Pleas Judge ruled in Gilmore's favor on grounds the statute of limitations had run out three months before the suit was filed.

The judge's action was reversed by a court of appeals which said the relationship between a doctor and his patient continued as long as the patient "considered" the doctor to be his physician.

Millbaugh contended that although he went to another doctor Jan. 8, 1960, his relationship with Gilmore continued until June, 1960, while he continued to take pills Gilmore prescribed.

Edith Gilmore, the doctor's widow and executrix of his estate, argued that Millbaugh ceased to be her husband's patient after his last visit to the doctors' office March 27, 1959.

According to court records, Gilmore noted at that time that Millbaugh should return to the office in one month. He also noted Millbaugh could return to work April 5, 1959.

In a decision issued Thursday, the Supreme Court refused to reinstate H.J.T. "Jerry" Herzog, 51, of Dayton, onetime president of the Ohio Young Republican Club, to the practice of law.

Herzog was temporarily suspended from practice 10 years ago for soliciting workmen's compensation clients. Herzog in 1960 was deputy administrator of the workmen's compensation office in Dayton.

In recommending that Herzog not be reinstated, the Dayton Bar Association said he did not mention in testimony for reinstatement a conviction and prison term he served for failing to pay federal income taxes in 1956, 1957 and 1959.

Herzog was a Republican candidate for mayor of Kettering in 1953 and president of the Ohio GP club in 1954.

Road Crash Fatal To 3

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A tractor-trailer rig crashed into two state highway department trucks on Ohio 2 about three miles south of Sandusky Thursday afternoon, killing three members of a highway survey crew.

The dead, all from Ashland, were identified as Rollin Scott, 38; Russell Thomas, 48, and Robert McPherson, 34.

Chief Kenneth Dietrich of the Perkins Township Police Department said the tractor-trailer was driven by Herbert Motter, 34, of Rt. 1, Zelinople, Pa. Motter was admitted to Good Samaritan Hospital here for observation.

Dietrich said he was continuing his investigation, but there were indications that two of the victims were in the highway trucks parked on the berm of the road and the third man was standing beside one of the trucks.

He said a fourth member of the survey crew, Edward Kubanek, 32, of Lorain, was about "a quarter of a mile down the road."

OSU To Limit New Enrollments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University announced today it has imposed ceilings on summer and fall quarter enrollments of freshmen and transfer students at its main campus.

The fall ceiling for freshmen will be 6,650, compared with 6,753 enrolled last September. For the summer quarter, the ceiling will be 500, down slightly from the 539 who entered last summer.

The combined summer-fall ceiling for transfer students will be about 400 below last year's total of 1,338. Those students also will come under new admissions procedures based on pre-transfer college grades.

MT Schedules Career Night For All SCO League Schools

Next Wednesday, Miami Trace High School will play host to students and their parents from Madison Plains, Circleville, Hillsboro, Wilmington, Greenfield McClain, Washington C.H. and Miami Trace High Schools at a "College and Career Night."

Use Ads On Stamps, Agency Urges

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati advertising agency has proposed that the U.S. Postal Service can make $100 million annually by selling advertising on postage stamps.

The idea was presented recently to Assistant Postmaster General William Dunlap who referred it to the stamp advisory committee for consideration, according to David Pritchard, president of Pritchard, Inc.

"It's kind of wild, but we think the idea has merit," said Pritchard, adding that the postal service has an annual deficit of $3 billion.

Pritchard said his firm "donated" the idea in an effort to stop rising postal rates. He also said lower rates could help keep magazines and periodicals in business.

"Some magazines could be driven out of business by mailing costs," Pritchard noted.

Pritchard said a survey of major advertisers had a good reaction. He said the $100 million figure was based on the number of stamps sold annually and the cost of advertising on matchbook covers.

Pritchard noted that stamps could be made larger because paper costs have determined the size previously. Advertisers would assume the burden of the paper costs.
